

Duchess Says Guns Menacing Gibraltar and Wants Action

Asks Chamberlain to Tell Commons of Program

NATION ANGERED Britain Aroused Over Continued Bomb- ings of Ships

London.—(P)—The duchess of Athol today gave details of what she said were guns "threatening Gibraltar" from insurgent Spain and issued notice she would ask Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in the house of commons tomorrow what he intends to do about them.

The duchess recently rebelled from conservative ranks and has been a frequent government critic.

The question of such guns, allegedly of German manufacture, has been raised repeatedly during the Spanish Civil war. The government has taken the position generally that they are not a threat to Gibraltar, Britain's fortress at the western entrance to the Mediterranean.

Lists Guns

The duchess' question enumerates guns in greater detail than any previous list. It cites:

More than 20 guns in hills around insurgent-held Algeiras, including three pieces of more than 10 inches.

A number of long-range 5.9-inch guns and several howitzers. "So placed that they could drop shells in Gibraltar but yet are invisible from the highest point on the rock"; about 45 guns ranging from six to 15 inches near Ceuta, in Spanish Morocco directly opposite Gibraltar.

Mounting indignation over continued bombings of British merchant ships in Spanish ports led some quarters in London today to believe Chamberlain's government must face fresh demands to allow the ships to arm in defense.

Destroy Two Ships

Earlier hopes that a five-day lull in attacks on British ships indicated insurgent General Franco at last was responding to repeated protests were dashed yesterday by the destruction of two more merchantmen, the Arlon and the Farnham, with a loss of four lives.

In top of that, six insurgent planes again bombed the British-operated port of Gandia, 35 miles south of Valencia, and dropped missiles near the British cruiser Arethusa anchored off the breakwater.

Adding to British uneasiness was the report from Rome that Premier Mussolini had held a conference with two of his foremost fighting men—Marshal Pietro Badoglio, chief of the general staff, and General Alberto Pariani, undersecretary for war.

Although it was supposed Mussolini meant the conference to draw attention to the Italian promise to answer with "cannon" any Spanish government attempt to back up its threat to bomb Italian cities, some sources suggested the discussion may have been on the general conduct of the Spanish civil war.

Welcome Investigation

The possibility was kept in mind that a Mussolini might determine to aid Franco in making a final, overwhelming drive to end the war. The Barcelona government, at least, showed there was no immediate danger of its threat being carried out. A note from the Spanish government to the British government hailed the creation of a neutral commission to investigate air raids on unfortified Spanish cities and made it plain plans for any reprisals would be held in abeyance until it is seen how the plan works.

Operations Resumed by Wausau Paper Mills Co.

Wausau.—(P)—The Wausau Paper Mills company plant at Brokaw, closed since a large concrete dam and the hydro-electric plant slipped into the Wisconsin river May 29, reopened yesterday with more than 300 employees at their jobs.

Water and part of the power needed to run the mill are being supplied by an old wooden dam discarded in 1923 but rebuilt during the last three weeks by mill employees. The rest of the power is being purchased.

Plans for rebuilding the concrete dam have not yet been agreed on. W. B. Clements, general manager of the company, said.

GUNMAN CAPTURED IN ILLINOIS

The slaying of an Indiana state policeman was added today to a long list of crimes attributed to two brothers, Orelle G. Easton, 25, above, and his brother, Clarence, 27, trapped on a farm near Joliet, Ill., yesterday. The latter was slain by officers after a wild 12-hour flight across five Indiana and Illinois counties. The fugitives engaged in three gun battles with police before they were finally captured. They were linked with robberies, holdups, car thefts, shootings and abductions in four states, including Wisconsin. The Eastons were from Valley City, N. D.

Indiana Is Seeking Custody Of Wounded Gunman After Fatal Shooting of Trooper

Kankakee, Ill.—(P)—State's Attorney Samuel Shapiro of Kankakee county delivered today into the brief crime careers of two outlaw brothers, one of whom was slain by police yesterday, as Indiana authorities moved to extradite the surviving desperado to stand trial for the slaying of a state trooper.

Michael Tajtas, assistant cashier of the First State and Savings bank of Rushing, Mich., was unable to identify the brothers as the men who robbed the bank of $4,200 on June 22. Opal Dennis, assistant cashier of the Farmers' Savings bank of North English, Iowa, held up by two men and robbed of $900 on June 18, said also they were not the robbers.

Suffering from bullet wounds in the right shoulder, both ears and his upper lip, curly haired Orelle G. Easton, 25, was called to testify at an inquest over the body of his brother, Clarence, 27, trapped and slain on the Byron Warner farm.

Lumberjack Is on Trial in Slaying

Accused of Negligence in Fatal Shooting of Forester

Granden, Wis.—(P)—Presentation of defense testimony was to be resumed today in the first degree manslaughter trial of Vernon Cox, 19-year-old lumberjack, charged with negligence in the fatal shooting of a junior United States forester, Royal Nettleton, 29, on Nov. 24, 1937.

Nettleton was shot while making a tree-top observation in Nicolet National forest, and died four days later at Iron River, Mich. In January, after national forestry investigators and local authorities conducted ballistics tests, Cox was arrested.

Officials said Cox claimed he thought he was shooting at a wildcat.

The first defense witness yesterday was L. R. Ritter, Forest county surveyor, who testified that brush and trees made it practically impossible to distinguish objects as far from Nettleton as Cox had stood. Ritter presented a map of the area.

Shawano Man Wins Clemency In Federal Court at Madison After Lawyers Plead in Vain

Madison.—(P)—Timid but desperate, Vernal Schoenick, Shawano, won his freedom in federal court today after two attorneys had failed to shake Judge Patrick Stone's decision to send him to a federal penitentiary for two years.

Schoenick, a meat market operator, was sentenced by Judge Stone in Milwaukee recently on a plea of guilty to a charge of buying cattle stolen from the Menominee Indian reservation.

He listened attentively today while Attorneys M. G. Eberlein and L. J. Brunner, Shawano, argued motions for a new trial and reduction of sentence. Both pleas were denied.

Then Schoenick stepped forward and timidly inquired: "May I please address the court?"

"Certainly, go ahead," Judge Stone said.

"Your honor," Schoenick declared, "I didn't know those cattle were stolen when I bought them. It is true that I learned later they had been stolen. When the inspectors

Major Battle Begun in Japs' Hankow Drive

Chinese Claim Barrier Unbroken Despite Nip-ponese Attacks

PLANE SINKS GUNBOAT

Pilot Crashes Bomb-Laden
Machine on Deck of War Vessel

Changha (Wednesday)—(P)—Major fighting in Japan's drive on Hankow swirled today around the great Yangtze river barricade of sunken junks, mines and forts at Matowchen, 175 miles downriver from Hankow, but Chinese said the main barrier still held despite desperate Japanese assaults and local gains.

A Chinese army spokesman at Kankow admitted Japanese land forces trying to advance along the Yangtze had captured one of the several forts protecting the barrier, but he denied a passage had been forced. Chinese troops, he declared, immediately counter-attacked in an effort to retake the fort.

Japanese land forces were reported definitely blocked in efforts to drive ahead along the river. A column on the south bank fought its way out of a position in which it was encircled by Chinese, a Japanese spokesman announced, but Chinese reported an invading force dangerously surrounded on the north bank.

Fate of Boom at Stake

Foreign military authorities said the fate of the Matowchen barrier, or boom, depended on the success of the Japanese land columns trying to reach its ends and shore defenses.

The river was rising, making it easier for Japanese boats to pass the barrier once its defenders have been driven off.

While increasing armies on both sides fought for the Matowchen boom, a "dare-to-die" Chinese aviator was reported to have sunk a Japanese gunboat some 40 miles downriver by deliberately plunging his bomb-laden plane on its deck.

Chinese air force officers said the act occurred near Anking, 215 miles downriver from Hankow, China's

Stolen Car Turned In on New One and Man Is Imprisoned

Harry Jonas, 34, Sentenced To One to Two Years
At Waupun

Harry Jonas, 34, Muskegon Heights, Mich., found out yesterday that before you can turn a used car in on a shiny new one, you must own it.

Jonas didn't observe that principle and yesterday he was sentenced to one to two years at Waupun by Municipal Judge Thomas H. Ryan after he pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny as baited.

The pleasure of driving a new car was short-lived for the Michigan man. In fact, it lasted only from Wednesday to Saturday of last week.

Jonas admitted in court yesterday that he posed as a prospective purchaser at a used car lot in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and obtained a car on trial. He then drove the machine to Appleton and last Wednesday turned it in on a new car at the Gibson company, it was charged.

Gibson officials became suspicious Saturday and called Appleton police. Jonas, who lived at 525 N. Garfield street while in Appleton, could not be found in the city. Police discovered he had relatives at Antigo and acting on a "hunch" called officers there. Jonas was found and returned to Appleton.

He waived preliminary examination and was taken before Judge Ryan yesterday afternoon.

The Michigan man worked at a dairy in Appleton from June 11 to 17.

RFC Helps Cities Acquire Power

Advancing Funds for Obtaining Distributing Systems

Washington.—(P)—The facilities of the RFC were made available today to cities seeking power from the government's new hydro-electric projects. Chairman Jesse Jones announced that the RFC had agreed to buy $5,800,000 of Knoxville, Tenn., revenue bonds to enable the city to acquire the Knox county distributing system of the Tennessee Public Service company. The city will use TVA power.

Jonas said Knoxville expected to make "a very substantial reduction" in rates to consumers and to amortize the cost of the plant in 20 years.

He added that while there have been no other formal applications to the RFC for such financing, inquiries had been received from the northwest, indicating applications might be expected from the vicinity of the Bonneville, Grand Coulee and Fort Peck dams. An RFC agent already is studying the loan prospects in the Columbia river area, he said.

Jones said a proposal that three PWA power projects in Nebraska buy out the major utilities in the state was eligible for RFC financing. The deal would involve $100,000,000.

While the RFC was "willing to cooperate," the chairman said, its offer was limited to programs involving distribution of power from government-financed dams.

Green Bay Machinist Says He Was Abducted

Green Bay.—(P)—John Dobkowski, 45, Green Bay machinist, told the sheriff's department he was abducted and slugged last night by robbers who took his car.

Dobkowski said he was driving along the bay shore when another automobile cut across the road in front of him and forced him to stop. While one man remained in the other machine, Dobkowski related, an armed man and two women entered his car and forced him into the back seat. He was slugged, he said, after being driven a short distance, and was tossed, dazed, into a ditch.

His car was found later driven into the water along the bay shore. Dobkowski said none of his money was missing.

41 Prisoners Denied Executive Clemency

Madison.—(P)—Governor LaFollette denied today the clemency pleas of 41 inmates of the state prison at Waupun and the house of correction in Milwaukee county.

The group included seven men sentenced to life terms at Waupun on first degree murder charges. The applicants and counties from which sentenced are: Orson Dodge, Ashland; Alvin Jensen, Dane for Sauk; Charles Kranz, Dodge; Frank Ruck, Milwaukee; John Watiss, Milwaukee; R. A. Kelly, Waukesha, and James Orlando, Waukesha.

Snell Quits as Party Head in Lower House

Administration Critic
Won't be Candidate
For Re-election

MARTIN FAVORED

Attempts Seen to Liberal-ize Congress Republican Leadership

Washington.—(P)—Attempts to liberalize the house Republican leadership in the 1939 congress appeared likely today as a result of the retirement of Minority Leader Bertrand H. Snell.

Bertrand H. Snell, out-spoken critic of Roosevelt policies, announced he would not be a candidate for re-election. After 24 years in congress, he said, he had decided to devote himself to varied business interests in northern New York.

Politicians, speculating as to Snell's successor, recalled the efforts made in 1936 by Representative Fish (R-N. Y.) to replace him with a leader favoring a "more progressive" program. The insurgent movement, however, was unsuccessful.

Among the few congressmen still in Washington, the first name generally mentioned for Snell's post was that of Representative Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, assistant minority leader. He is 53; Snell is 67.

Friends Laud Martin

Friends of Martin asserted his political viewpoint was liberal enough to satisfy all factions of the party. They noted that while he opposed many Roosevelt measures, he supported much of the president's social legislation, including the wage-hour bill signed Saturday by the president.

Martin, a newspaper publisher at North Attleboro, Mass., began his political career in the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1912. He came to congress in 1924. He was Alfred M. Landon's eastern manager in the 1936 presidential campaign and now is chairman of the Republican congressional committee.

Other Possibilities

Other possible candidates for Snell's post are Representatives Wadsworth of New York, chairman of the Republican policy committee; Mapes of Michigan, dean of the house Republicans; Taber of New York, one of the president's most consistent critics in congress; Treadway of Massachusetts, ranking minority member of the ways and means committee, and Fish.

The executive committee of the national Republican organization was in session here yesterday about the time Snell's announcement was made. Chairman John Hamilton commented that Snell has been a source of "great strength to the party."

The committee gave Hamilton a vote of confidence, declaring he and his staff "have functioned efficiently and adequately" in cooperation with the congressional campaign committee. Representative Fish, opposing Hamilton's policies, had proposed Sunday that the committee declare the chairmanship vacant until after the November election.

Stresses Free Speech In Charges Against Rolling Mill Company

Cattlettsburg, Ky.—(P)—Rights of free speech and a free press remain paramount questions in the national labor relations board charges against American Rolling Mill company, Donald R. Richberg asserted today.

Hearing of a broad complaint that the steel producing firm violated the Wagner labor act in its Ashland, Ky., plant was in recess until tomorrow while opposing counsel sought an out-of-court adjustment over differences resulting from a board demand for company records.

Victor in a fight to obtain a favorable ruling on the right of company officials and employees to participate in Ashland municipal politics, former NRA Administrator Richberg said:

"Charges remaining in the complaint still bear heavily on the rights of free speech and a free press."

They concern alleged solicitation of associations to campaign against collective bargaining and dissemination of anti-union propaganda.

Jury Completed for Hammer Slaying Trial

Milwaukee.—(P)—A jury of 11 men and 1 woman was completed today to try Oswald Wolf, 59, on a first degree murder charge in the hammer slaying of his wife, Elsa, 46, last April.

Stewart Honick, defense counsel, asserted in his opening statement that the slaying was the act of an insane man. Wolf pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

District Attorney Herbert J. Steffes told the jury Wolf struck his wife "a dozen times over the head" with a stonecutter's hammer.

Two alienists appointed by the court have reported Wolf now is sane. After observing the trial, they will testify regarding Wolf's sanity at the time of the slaying.

$543,000 Paving Program Is Before Councilmen Today

Patrons of Co-Op Creamery
Oust Union Workers; Vote
To Establish Picket Line

Milwaukee.—(P)—N. S. Clark, regional director of the national labor board, declared today he would recommend that the board prosecute persons who interfered with attempts of board agents to settle the labor dispute at the Richland Co-Operative Creamery company, Richland Center.

Section 12 of the national labor act provides for a fine of not more than $5,000, up to a year in jail, or both, for interference with labor board agents' activities.

Clark said that when he attended a conference with directors of the plant at Richland Center last week, farmers had gathered outside with piftenfords and had told agents of the board they had "better forget there is such a place as Richland Center."

Richland Center.—(P)—A five month labor dispute at the Richland Co-Operative Creamery flared up today when about 500 members ousted all union employees from the plant and set up a picket line to prevent their return.

The ouster was accomplished without violence under the supervision of Sheriff Ben McLaren. Seven employees holding membership in an A. F. of L. union were given a choice of resigning or being summarily discharged. The plant's committee said it would deal later with three other union employees who were not at work today.

The action climaxed weeks of dispute over the management's opposition to union labor. The national labor relations board recently suggested rehiring of three men, allegedly discharged for union activities.

Against Union

Patrons began gathering at the plant shortly before 9 o'clock a. m. in response to a call to the 750 members of the cooperative for a mass-meeting to "eliminate union labor" from the plant. Ed Murphy, head of the patrons' committee, acted as spokesman.

After the patrons had indicated by voice that they did not want a

Green Company to Begin Resurfacing Of Avenue July 5

Black Top Material Delivered to Plant Monday.
Unload Today

Resurfacing of ravelled black top on College avenue and two blocks on W. Washington street will be started July 5, according to Carson Green of the Charles A. Green and Son company.

Material arrived at the Green mixing plant yesterday and is being unloaded today. The asphaltic cement which will be used to prepare the surface also was delivered here yesterday.

About five or six men are employed at the plant but more will be hired when the resurfacing work begins. The company will complete several small patching jobs and may surface the two tennis courts in city park this week, Green said.

The city council June 16 recommended that the contractor replace ravelled black top after months of wrangling and indecision. The vote was unanimous.

The work will be supervised by Dana Burgess and Will Peck, engineers of Colprovia Roads, Inc., New York. Green said today his crew probably will begin work on W. Washington street and then continue on College avenue.

Reprisal Threat Not Withdrawn

Spanish Loyalist Regime
May be Forced to Act,
Newspaper Says

Madrid.—(P)—The newspaper Politica, organ of the Spanish government, expressed the possibility today the government might take reprisals against the "real authors of attacks on government cities."

The editorial clearly indicated Italy and Germany were meant.

It suggested that Barcelona's acceptance of the newly created international neutral commission to investigate bombings of civilian populations did not necessarily solve the problem.

"The Spanish government," the newspaper said, "is not forgetful of the fact that in spite of all international commissions that may be appointed to come over to Spain to report illegal aerial activities, our rearguard cities may continue to suffer systematic bombings."

"If that is so, Republican planes will not be looking at rebel cities for retaliation. Like in our own cities there are innocent people, there are pacific Spaniards already quite miserable and disgusted by the invasion of our soil. That is not the sort of reprisal worthy of the Republic."

Senate Campaign Probers Term Williams' Speech 'Unfortunate'

But Accept Denial of Politics

Washington.—(P)—The senate campaign investigating committee censured today as "unfortunate" a speech made yesterday by Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, to the Workers' Alliance.

The committee voted to accept, however, a statement by Williams that no political implications were intended in his remarks to the organization of WPA workers.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Texas) of the senate committee told newspapermen he would ask the alliance for the stenographic transcript of Williams' address.

Newspaper men informed him that the alliance had distributed what purported to be a transcript of the talk in which Williams advised the workers to keep their "friends" in power.

In a letter to Sheppard, made public by the committee, Williams summarized his talk and said he was unable to send the transcript because his remarks were made extemporaneously.

Newspaper men attending the meeting of the alliance reported Williams told the workers:

"Keep your friends in power. Judge those friends by the crowd they run with when they come to you and ask for support."

The campaign committee, after a special meeting called to consider Williams' letter of reply, said it felt that "because of his position in the work progress administration the speech of Mr. Williams was unfortunate."

The committee asserted "the committee accepts this (Williams') statement."

Sheppard said, however, that if a transcript of the speech was obtainable from the alliance, he would compare it with Williams' own summary of his remarks. He added that he would then take up with the committee the question of further steps if the two were at variance.

Girl Tires of Her Masquerade as Boy, Leaves Chicago Home

Milwaukee.—(P)—Police here planned today to return to her home in Chicago an 18 year-old girl who ran away because she no longer wanted to masquerade as a boy.

Katherine Vine, Chicago, actually a pretty girl, into police she lived for 18 years as a boy at her mother's insistence because the latter had wanted another son.

Police took the girl to the safety building after a misunderstanding last night in which Miss Vine, seeking a room advertised in want ads, rang a bell at 12-30 a. m. at the wrong residence. The occupants of the house called police without answering the bell.

The girl said she ran away from Chicago because of quarrels with her mother over her abandonment recently of boys' garb. She said she had gone three years to a Chicago high school and played on boys' teams without detection of her real sex.

Capital Watches Two Senatorial Races in Midwest

Roosevelt's Statement Directs Attention to Nye's Campaign

Washington—(P)—Two midwestern senatorial contests aroused interest in the capital today because of their potential bearing on President Roosevelt's appeal for clear-cut liberal-conservative battles.

One was in North Dakota, where Senator Gerald P. Nye—frequently a Roosevelt supporter—was opposed in the Republican primary by Governor William Langer.

The other was in Indiana, where Republican delegate to a state convention will caucus tonight before selecting their senatorial candidate tomorrow. The question of national interest was whether the convention would take any stand on the independent candidacy of Senator Frederick Van Nuys, anti-administration Democrat.

Outside Own Party

The president and his immediate advisers have taken no public part in the Nye-Langer contest, which is outside their own party. A factor indicating they might have more than a passing concern in the outcome, however, was Nye's endorsement by two ardent New Dealers—Senators Bone (D-Wash.) and Norris (D-Nebr.).

Their advocacy of their colleague's renomination preceded by a few weeks Mr. Roosevelt's request last Friday that voters of all parties consider the liberalism of men for whom they vote.

There has not been the slightest hint as to whether Nye—in the event of his renomination today—might act any open or tacit administration aid against the Democratic candidate. Mr. Nye, who went outside Democratic ranks in 1936 to advocate Senator Morris' reelection, Nye, like Norris, often has joined midwestern Progressives and Farmer-Laborites in voting with administration Democrats. He has not been 100 per cent for Roosevelt policies, however, for he has favored a mandatory neutrality law and other peace legislation not on the president's program.

Senatorial Battle

The Indiana senatorial battle apparently will find two candidates labeled conservatives fighting a Democrat friendly to the national administration. The latter will be chosen next month at a state convention, dominated by the party organization unfriendly to Van Nuys. Some Republicans have proposed that their own convention endorse Van Nuys because of his opposition to the court bill and other Roosevelt legislation.

That movement, however, has not gathered much headway, and the convention is expected to choose among five other candidates, one of whom is former Senator James E. Watson. Van Nuys will run as an independent and hopes to obtain support from individual Republicans as well as from dissident Democrats.

Five Plead Guilty of Traffic Offenses in County and are Fined

Five traffic offenders were fined yesterday afternoon in municipal court of Judge Thomas H. Ryan.

Arlene Hubbard, Hancock, Wis., pleaded guilty to a charge of ignoring a stop sign in the village of Black Creek and was fined $5 and costs.

Oscar A. Miller, Seymour, arrested in the town of Black Creek on the same charge Sunday, pleaded guilty and was also fined $5 and costs.

Failure to pass a driver's license cost Woodrow Kitcher, route 2, Shiocton, a fine of $5. He was arrested June 19 in the town of Oneida. Kenneth Johnston, route 2, Neenah, admitted driving a truck without clearance lights and was fined $5. He was arrested Sunday in the town of Grand Chute.

Lawrence Stone, Whitewater, arrested June 26 in Black Creek in a car with only one license plate, pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

Claim Social Security Tax Used to Finance Deficits

Madison—(P)—Social security taxes paid by employers and employees for old age benefits are to be used to finance current federal deficits and to withdraw federal debt from the open market, according to a study of the law just completed by the Wisconsin Taxpayers' alliance.

This is contrary to a widespread belief that these taxes are set aside as a special cash fund from which benefits will be paid when the employee reaches the age of sixty-five.

Although the Social Security act specifically provides that the secretary of the treasury shall set up an old age reserve account, the law does not provide that the social security tax collections shall be placed in the account. "Instead, the law gives congress the right to make annual appropriations to the account of an amount sufficient to meet current disbursements and provide a fund sufficient to meet future payments when computed on a scientific basis of 3 per cent interest compounded annually."

Not Mandatory

A downpour of rain failed to dampen the ceremony at Wilmington, Del., where President Roosevelt welcomed Prince Bertil, of Sweden, who was standing in for his sick father Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf. The prince stands by the greeting was part of a celebration marking the 300th anniversary of the landing of the first Swedish colonists.

Dozen Civil War Veterans Report Insurgent Swap Yarns at Their Annual Encampment at Milwaukee

Madison—(P)—One dozen veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, all that are here for the annual encampment, sat back in their chairs today and let their relatives and related organizations run their show.

When a man is 95, or a youngster of 65, they reasoned, he's entitled to let somebody else do the work.

The original eight, who came Sunday, were A. R. Kibbe, 94, of New Richmond; Richard Comins, 89, of Glenbeulah, who served in a New York regiment; F. C. Moulton, 89, of Madison, and Captain Royal Bigford, 90, Fond du Lac.

Moulton, who enlisted from Mazomanie, Wis., as a drummer boy when he was 13, held the stage at a chin-fest with a story of the day he encountered elusive General Nathan Forrest and his men near Memphis.

Life-long Republican

"I've been a Republican all my life," Moulton declared, "but the north never had a man like Forrest. He's the kind of fellow who would strike at Milwaukee one day and then be up at Ashland the next."

Moulton's father, Stillman Moulton, also served in the Civil war, with the First Wisconsin heavy artillery. The elder Moulton taught school at Springfield, Ill., and helped Abraham Lincoln with his studies before the war, the Madison man said.

On the more serious side, William Dyer of New York, head of the Sons of Union Veterans, explained the purpose of that organization. It is, he said, to keep green the memories of the union veterans after they have reached their final resting places, and to keep fresh their distaste for fascism, Nazism and other anti-American "isms."

Registration of Aliens

Dyer predicted that the United States eventually would come to a system of registration of alien visitors, showing their whereabouts, in order to curb spying and anti-American activity.

Mrs. Mary Manning, Seattle, Wash., national president of the Daughters of Union Veterans, and Mrs. Mabel Perkins of Waukesha, Wis., national chief of staff, were to meet with the state auxiliary organizations. Mrs. M. Susan Miller of Madison, state chairman of the D.U.V., conducted memorial services.

The convention runs through tomorrow, with the W.R.C. and D.U.V. electing officers today and the G.A.R. ladies of the G.A.R., and S.U.V. and auxiliary electing tomorrow.

More than 300 members of various organizations attended a banquet last night at which Captain Henry Heid, national senior vice commander, and W. H. Chesbrough, Deloit, assistant adjutant general of the Wisconsin department, were

More Dangerous Area

A party of skilled climbers, headed by C. M. Froelicher of Colorado Springs, set out into the more dangerous area immediately below the "shield" CCC enrollee, in parties of five, moved down through the lower canyons leading to the Rio Grande valley.

Most of the mountain veterans who have scaled the cliff are convinced that young McCormick is not on it, although some still believed he might be there. Nearly all were of the opinion that the boys, setting out about noon last Wednesday, could not have scaled more than 75 feet of the face.

McCormick's distraught mother, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick Simms, has been at the search scene constantly, personally directing climbers seeking her son.

Only Experts Can Handle Dangerous Type of Fireworks

State Law Forbids All but Small Firecrackers And Sparklers

The "old fashioned Fourth," when explosives rivaled dynamite in intensity, is out of style—just as its name implies—and the police and fire departments of Appleton are looking to the residents of the city to make the coming Independence Day a "safe and sane Fourth."

In a letter to Fire Chief George P. McGillan, the state industrial commission this week outlined the provisions of the state fireworks law and pointed out that "dangerous explosives have been taken out of the hands of the inexperienced and are now handled in community displays by experts who 'know what it's all about.'"

With the more dangerous types of fireworks barred from the state by law, the commission urges police and fire departments to "closely check dealers in your locality to see that prohibited kinds of fireworks are not sold or used."

"Roadside stands spring up about this time of year," the commission stated, "and a watchful eye must be kept for 'bootleg fireworks' from outside sources. Violators should be promptly reported to proper authorities."

Following is a list of the fireworks which can be legally sold in the state: firecrackers not more than two inches in length nor more than three eighths inch in diameter; colored fire in covered cans covered with light torches with lighting ends covered; fountains, flowerpots, and display wheels throwing a display not more than six feet; uncolored sparklers not more than 10 inches in length over all and three sixteenths of an inch in diameter.

Fireworks of more dangerous and spectacular nature can be used only when a special permit is issued and can be displayed only in open fields, public parks, private parks, or on rivers, lakes, and ponds by public authorities or private agencies duly authorized.

Residents of Appleton and vicinity will have full opportunity to see fireworks that have all the hood and thunder of the past and a lot of new angles besides during the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce celebration at Erb park Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. The J.C. will sponsor fireworks displays both Sunday and Saturday nights.

Reorganization Is Given Court O.K.

Tribunal Rules Bradley Knitting Company Plan Is Legal

Madison—(P)—The supreme court ruled yesterday that a stock reorganization proposed by the Bradley Knitting company of Milwaukee and Delavan, was legal.

The reorganization, proposed by Arthur Johnson, Milwaukee stockholder, provided for the reduction of first preferred stock dividends from 7 to 5 per cent, cut the ratio of quick assets on the value of outstanding first preferred stock from 120 to 60 per cent, and reduced the percentage of profits set aside for the sinking funds for protection of first preferred holders from 3 to 2 per cent.

The high court modified in one respect the decision of Circuit Judge Jesse N. Earle, deciding that Johnson was entitled to $1,720 in stock dividends accruing on 86 shares of first preferred stock as a result of the company's plan to offer convertible dividend warrants to first preferred holders in discharge of accumulated dividends.

Clamshell Dredge Is Used in Effort to Free Excursion Ship

Macineak Island, Mich.—(P)—A clamshell dredge was used today to remove some of the clay and boulders which have held the excursion steamer South American on Tin shoal, off Round Island, since Saturday.

Submarine jacks were brought from Sault Ste. Marie for use in the event the dredging operation fails to re-float the vessel.

The South American lies 60 feet along the shoal. Although her stern is in 19 feet of water, her rudder is raised about two and one half feet and her propeller is partially out of water.

Guy A. Myers, lakes manager for the United States Salvage corporation, came from Cleveland yesterday to assist in releasing the vessel.

The South American's 125 passengers were removed Saturday after she struck the shoal in a fog.

Major Fighting Reported in Japan Drive on Hankow provisional capital, Monday in air attacks that damaged at least three Japanese gunboats and destroyed six Japanese warplanes.

The Chinese pilot, they said, dived headlong to the gunboat's deck when Japanese anti-aircraft fire set his plane aflame, "exploding his bombs and breaking the back of the man-of-war."

The officers proudly called the deed another case of a "Chinese fighter heroically sacrificing his life at terrific cost to the Japanese."

War Bugged Down

With the war bugged down on all fronts, most Japanese operations were confined to aerial attacks over South China.

The island of Hainan off the coast of Kwangtung province was bombed yesterday. No new sign of a major Japanese offensive in South China was apparent, however.

(In Tokyo the Japanese foreign office denied Japan had been warned by France and Great Britain against occupying Hainan island, strategically situated near French Indo-China and British Hongkong.)

(Richard Austen Butler, British undersecretary for foreign affairs, yesterday told the house of commons a joint British-French warning had been issued to Japan to keep her hands off Hainan. He said the two powers were pledged to act together to meet any "complications.")

Guerrillas Active

Unconfirmed report said Chinese guerrillas had made repeated threats of new fighting in Pootung, devastated industrial area across the Whangpoo river from Shanghai's international settlement. Artillery fire could be heard southwest of Shanghai.

A third area threatened by flood was reported from Hangchow, Japanese-held capital of Chekiang province, south of Shanghai. A rise in the Chuentung river, along which Japanese and Chinese forces have been fighting intermittently for months, was said to have menaced Hangchow and nearby cities on its banks.

Devastating floods of the Yellow river, in Honan province, have swamped Japan's siege of Changchow, and inundated wide areas of what was the main battle area of the undeclared war. In Anhwei province, Yangtze river overflows, have interfered with the Japanese drive up stream toward Hankow.

Mr. and Mrs. Scholar Can Combine Studies, Sports At University Tent Colony

Madison—(P)—Tenting "tonight" may fittingly be the theme song of some 300 residents of the University of Wisconsin Tent colony, believed to be the only venture of its kind in American collegiate life.

The university donated the "Old Camp Ground," a thickly wooded plot on the shores of Lake Mendota, for men and families whose heads wish to attend the annual summer school at the lowest possible cost.

The "Little City," as it is known to citizens of Madison, was founded in 1912 by Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men, and head of the summer session.

The colony consists of tents, built on stationary platforms renting for $5 a summer. The colonists must furnish their own tents and equipment, but even so, expenses are cut to a minimum.

Solution to Problem

Intelligentsia from all parts of the nation find the economical and healthy colony a solution to their problem for a summer of recreation and education.

Children find the cool water of Lake Mendota to their liking, and a life guard, hired by the university, keeps a watchful eye on the youngsters throughout the day, while Mr. and Mrs. Scholar are busy studying.

The tent city is located two miles from the campus. The journey can be made either by foot, auto, boat or canoe.

The city has a mayor, aldermen, constable and the like. Elections are held on the first day of the summer school session, which starts Tuesday. Aldermen from the various wards have the same duties as those of large cities, running the community as a self governing autonomy.

The camp was christened "Camp Gallitella" in honor of A. F. Gallistel, superintendent of buildings and grounds, and his wife, who, for the past 14 years have been godfather and godmother to the group.

Chicago Expert Says Writing on Note Is Genuine

Testifies No Man Could Have Written Signature But Hatten

Waupesa—George W. Schwartz, Chicago handwriting expert, testified Monday in the claim of Mrs. Beatrice Monsted, New London against the William H. Hatten estate that the signature on the promissory note was genuine. Mrs. Monsted in her claim for $31,000 against the estate, $6,000 of which was for food and lodging and the "hospitality of her home," admitted that she filled in the words of the note with the exception of the signature and the words, "to be taken from my estate." John F. Tyrrell, handwriting expert from Marquette university, June 13 declared that the signature on the $25,000 note was not that of the late millionaire lumberman.

In his testimony Monday, Schwartz said that "not a human being living could retrace that signature with all its lines except the man who owns the signature; that 'never twice in a life time is a signature written the same.'"

Testimony brought out the peculiarities in writing habits of the deceased. These the counsel for the plaintiff attempted to compare with similar letters found in a diary belonging to Mrs. Monsted but an objection by the defense counsel was sustained. A specific point of interest was the formation of the letter "y" on which the expert refused to testify declared that it required special investigation since his "reputation was at stake."

An adjournment of 21 weeks was ordered by Judge Scheller to enable counsel of both sides to obtain further testimony. An additional fifteen days will be granted for the filing of briefs.

Miller, Mack and Fairchild, attorneys for the First Wisconsin Trust company, Milwaukee, administrators of the estate, were represented by J. G. Hardgrove, Benton, Bossier, Becker and Pernell, Appleton, appeared as counsel for the plaintiff.

Appleton Man Officer In Pipe Trades Group

Gordon Kitzmiller of Appleton was elected second vice president of the Wisconsin Pipe Trades association at the convention held last weekend at Green Bay.

William Gregory Racine, was elected president to succeed Arthur Olsson, Milwaukee. Other officers named were Edward Burdard, Sheboygan, first vice president; A. G. Jameson, La Crosse, third vice president; and Anthony J. King, Milwaukee, secretary treasurer. Racine was selected as the 1939 convention city.

The biggest problem facing the tent city is wind and rain. The flimsy homes, though protected by great trees and vegetation, are usually tossed about by storms several times each summer but the colonists pitch in and with a perfect cooperative spirit, rebuild the canvas homes and go on living as though nothing happened.

The camp has had births, and deaths on two occasions, but annually life goes on at an easy pace with only examinations, wind and rain to worry about.

Woman Gets Divorce On Desertion Charge

Florence Strover, 31, Appleton, was granted a divorce from Gilbert Strover, 30, Jamestown, N. D., yesterday in municipal court before Judge Thomas H. Ryan on grounds of desertion.

She was awarded $25 a month support and custody of the three children. The couple was married March 24, 1927, and separated in December of 1936.

Under the CAPITOL DOME

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Madison—Among the practitioners and the students of the science of art, if you prefer—of politics in Wisconsin it would be hard indeed to find anyone to deny that Philip F. LaFollette is a master in his chosen vocation. Friends admire him, faithful followers emulate him, and his enemies respect him, perhaps even envy his proficiency.

An almost invaluable asset to the politician who builds his power by the rules which have been developed in this country through more than 150 years of party government in a capacity for remembering names and faces. Politicians live by the favor of the voter, and the average voter likes nothing better than the sound of his own name. And perhaps no other political figure in Wisconsin has acquired such a remarkable facility in remembering the names of large numbers of his voting friends as has Wisconsin's governor.

This correspondent the other day was present at one of the numerous receptions at the executive mansion. From all over the state came citizens professing the LaFollette credo for a party gathering. Afterward they went to the governor's home for refreshments. For several hours Gov. Phil stood at the head of the receiving line, near the parlor door, and like a memory expert in vaudeville addressed "Joe," "Henry," "Mike" and scores of others without a flicker of recitation. Hundreds of plain voters passed through that parlor that afternoon (and on to the lavatory tables) and there were few who did not get a greeting by name before they volunteered to introduce themselves.

SIRE AND SON
The incident illustrated again the unusual similarity in the accomplishments of the LaFollette father and son. For "Old Bob" also possessed that elementary political stock in trade to an enviable degree.

Once many years ago a farmer from Dunkirk took to Madison a neighbor farmer whom the senior LaFollette had never seen, or known. But LaFollette gripped the hand of the stranger, peering into his face as he did so, and said, "Yes, let's see, you're Jim Simpson, aren't you?"

"No," replied the farmer, with a grin, "but I know Jim. I bought a horse from him last week."
"Oh, yes," replied LaFollette. "I knew there was something between you. It was that handsome gray, wasn't it?" he continued, brushing off some gray hairs that had accumulated on the farmer's shoulders.

"It was, all right," said the farmer, flabbergasted.
And so are friends and followers, and best of all campaign workers, made in politics.

NORSKE REPUBLICAN
If energy and extensive traveling will win a senatorial nomination and election, Alexander Wiley of Chippewa Falls will have them. While the other half dozen aspirants for the senate nomination bide their time, Wiley is furiously campaigning in every corner of the state.

Wiley, his colleagues agree, has picked up a lot of political learning in the last two years. Now an accomplished campaigner, he was pretty amateurish two years ago when he ran for the governorship. He is also one of the few leaders of his nationality in the northwestern counties to adopt the Republican party. Wisconsin Scandinavians for decades have been firm, ardent supporters of LaFollette Progressives.

NAMED TO POST

Will M. Ross, Milwaukee, formerly of Appleton, was elected June 22 to the executive committee of the National Tuberculosis association at its thirty-fourth annual meeting in Los Angeles, Calif. Ross had been active in the organized fight against tuberculosis in the nation and has been interested in the work of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association for many years.

the campus and is now actively filling speaking engagements in which he betrays no love for the legal profession or the ways of the courts.

Husky, with a pugilistic mien and a fluent manner of speaking which doesn't hint that he entered the university with practically no previous academic training, he is now busy setting up a volunteer office in the capital which will tear off the "red tape" from relief and pension procedure. His law school expenses are being paid by influential Progressives.

SHORT SHOTS

Significant note: The presence of W. T. Eyvye, long-time editor of the Progressive organ, at the party pow-wow in the governor's office the other day. It was the first meeting which he attended in at least two years, since he was tacitly dismissed from the governor's "kitchen cabinet" during Phil's second term. The grapevine says that Eyvye took some criticism for his frequently bitter effusions against the party and Gov. LaFollette in recent months.

Eating a free lunch at the same table was Adj. Gen. Ralph M. Immell, for whom Eyvye entertains a very cordial dislike, and whom he will certainly oppose if he runs for any office. Immell, incidentally, now hears his friends suggest that he should have a chance to run for office this fall in order to get a vote of confidence in his selection by the governor to run the new party, National Progressives of America.

It is surprising how many people can be found in Wisconsin political circles just now who will talk confidently of a Duffy-LaFollette deal in the fall elections.

Wisconsin congressmen are busily "announcing" allocations of funds from the federal spending kitty for their districts. The pork barrel may be old-fashioned, but it is still an effective help in a campaign, apparently.

Coalition managers have plenty of applications for the job of campaign manager, but the salaries demanded are such the anemic ex-

Ice Cream. Malted Milk Production Is Highest in History

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—The crop reporting services of the state and federal governments today had a bit of encouragement for the dairy industry: ice cream and malted milk production during 1937 smashed all records for Wisconsin.

Ice cream production in the state last year was well over 9,000,000 gallons, compared with 7,500,000 gallons during 1934. Reports of state dairying plants indicate that over 17,000,000 pounds of malted milk were made last year, an increase of about 2,000,000 over the 1936 output.

"Along with the increase in the consumers' buying power, there has been a gradual increase in the production of malted milk and ice cream," the services noted. "The use of dairy products is increasing as people realize their value. The per capita consumption of dairy products has increased considerably in recent years. Another factor now in the increased demand chequer of the organization cannot be, according to reports.

Omer "The Bomber" Crocker, boxing sensation at the state university last term, has found a place on Gen. Immell's copious payroll.

License Fees to Bring Revenue of $3,000 to City

Council Will Act on Applications at Meeting Thursday Night

Kaukauna — More than $3,000 will be paid into the city treasury this week from the sale of liquor and cigarette licenses, City Clerk Lester J. Brenzel said yesterday. The council will meet Thursday night to pass upon 28 applications for class B licenses, a decrease of two over last year.

Tavern operators pay $50 for a liquor license and $50 for a license to sell beer. Several bartender permits are sold each year, as the state law requires that there must always be at least one registered dispenser on duty. The liquor and beer licenses are sold in a combination for $100.

Two types of class A licenses are given out, one permitting the sale in less than four and a half gallons and the other in quantities in excess of this amount. The former cost $10 and the latter $25.

About 50 dealers take out licenses to sell cigarettes every year, giving the city $5 for each permit. Pharmacists pay $10 for permits to sell liquor for medicinal purposes.

The cigarette and liquor licenses run from July 1 to next June 30. Other licenses, including milk dealer permits and junk dealer licenses, run during the calendar year, and net the city about $150.

"YELLOW JACK" GLORIFIES MODERN HEROES

Motion picture's most modern heroes, scientific martyrs, again are glorified in "Yellow Jack," starring Robert Montgomery and Virginia Bruce. The picture opens at the Appleton theatre tomorrow for an engagement of 3-days. The story, a relation of the incidents attendant upon Major Walter Reed's commission to Cuba after the Spanish-American War in an effort to halt inroads made by yellow fever, tells of the heroism of the little band of men who dared death to save humanity. Romance enters the picture in the attraction of Robert Montgomery to Virginia Bruce, one of the two nurses taken from Washington to Cuba. Included in the important supporting cast are Lewis Stone, Andy Devine, Henry Hull, Charles Coburn, Buddy Ebsen and many others. The companion feature will be "Reckless Living." It's notable cast is headed by Robert Wilcox, Nan Grey, Jimmy Savo, William Lundigan and Frank Jenks.

In other games the Gustmans walloped the Greenwoods, 17 to 7, and the Merchants whipped them 20 to 12.

Jim Knack and Jim Kobussen pitched and caught for the Shoes, with Kobussen also hitting a home run with the bases full to put his team ahead at 4-3, a lead which they never lost. For the Merchants Dick Steffen hurled and Van Dyke was behind the bat. Tom Brenzel was on the mound for Greenwoods with Jim Baten his battery mate. Jack Roberts and Harry Fernal worked together for Gustmans, while Don Lappen and Jim Mathis handled the pitching and receiving for the Taverns.

Wednesday morning's games have the Times against the Taverns at 9:30, and the Gustmans opposing the Taverns at 10:30.

Kaukauna — Robert Bernard has won first and second place in the 500-mile race of the Kaukauna Pigeon club from Norfolk, Neb., last Sunday. The race was the last old bird contest, and fanciers will now begin training their young pigeons for the fall competition.

Ed Jackel, Winning Hurler, Holds Opponents to 2 Hits in League Tilt

Kaukauna — The South Side C. Y. O. took the measure of the Mill Office, 14 to 4, in a city softball league tilt last night at the library grounds. Ed Jackel, on the mound for the winners, allowed the Mill team four runs and two hits in the first inning, but pitched hitless ball the rest of the way. The victors tallied twice in the second, once in the third, twice in the fourth and clinched matters with a 9-run rally in the fifth.

The nine runs were not due to any slugging on the part of the South Siders, for not a single hit was made. Four walks and six errors accounted for the surplusage.

T. Kiffle walked in the first for the Mill team, and Luedtke singled. Meinert tripped to score both. Hurst stroled, and he and Meinert scored on two successive errors.

Luedtke and Giesbers shared mound duties for the losers, with Meinert behind the bat. J. Saunders caught Ed Jackel's hurling.

Tonight the North Side C. Y. O. will clash with the South Side C. Y. O. in other games this week have the Kappell Taverns against the Kaukauna Clubs on Thursday, and the Hooymanites opposing the Mill Office on Friday. Thursday's tilt will bring the two undefeated leaders together.

Hopkins' Aide in Political Speech Before Relievers

Williams Is Quoted as Having Appealed for Support at Polls

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Politics has become so deeply ingrained in government agencies that, despite the warnings of a senate committee as to the propriety of mixing relief and electioneering, the Works Progress Administration through its deputy administrator, Aubrey Williams, has just resumed its political manipulations.

Standing before relief workers themselves who came to the department of interior building in connection with a question of governmental action—business of the government in every sense of the word—the deputy administrator, who stands at the right hand of Harry Hopkins, made a campaign speech to the delegation.

Mr. Williams is quoted as having directly appealed for political support at the polls. After outlining the work of the WPA and the FWA, the deputy administrator remarked:

"The men who stand for these things will win elections."

In addition to this comment, Mr. Williams is represented as having said that a "change" in the present administration might "undo" all that had been done for the jobless. He urged his listeners thus: "Keep your friends in power. Judge your friends by the crowd they run with. You will know them when they come to you for support."

Hopkins Talks Politics

Mr. Williams, of course, is a subordinate of Harry Hopkins. Little blame can attach to the deputy administrator for talking politics when the head of the federal agency openly does so and receives the full approbation of the president of the United States.

It may be, of course, that Mr. Roosevelt when approving of what Mr. Hopkins said, was not talking as president, but as "head of the Democratic party," a distinction outlined so ingeniously in the last fireside chat. Possibly Mr. Williams wasn't talking as a federal official at all, but as a citizen discussing politics of the abstract.

But it cannot, on the other hand, be overlooked that the persons to whom the speech was made received checks from the government, and public funds are not supposed to be distributed with any political strings or implied obligations of a political sort.

The administration has consistently refused to permit any investigation of the way relief funds are used for political purposes. At the session of congress recently adjourned, three separate votes were taken in the senate on a proposal to write into the statutes a specific measure to prohibit federal officials from mixing relief and politics, but the Democratic administration's supporters succeeded in defeating the proposal on each occasion.

New Deal 'Hides Truth'

Thus the administration has used its votes in congress to hide the truth and squelch an inquiry. Possibly there has been no more flagrant and brazen example of misuse of governmental power since the scandals of Teapot Dome under a Republican administration. In the Teapot Dome cases, the government got back the oil lands which a federal official tried to pass on to private interests, but, in this case, there is no way to recover the loss of respect which will be sustained by the institutions of free government when an administration openly uses government money and government authority to influence elections.

The president is responsible for the appointment of these heads of agencies. He alone can say whether the proprietaries are being observed. But Mr. Roosevelt, by his radio speech, has entered the political arena himself in undertaking to dictate candidacies in the party primaries. He is about to travel across the continent to make some campaign speeches here and there in the states and districts of various members of congress. Chairman Hamilton of the Republican national committee has been so shocked by the behavior of the president that he has openly demanded to know whether the Democratic national committee is to pay the travel expenses of Mr. Roosevelt as "head of the Democratic party" on the forthcoming tour, or whether it is to come out of the travel fund provided for the president of the United States.

Wrong Ethics

Presidents no doubt have made political speeches on their tours before and the government has paid their expenses, but this doesn't make it right or ethical. The American people, however, are not going to be much stirred up over the question of these travel expenses when the real issue is whether billions of dollars of taxpayers' money are to be disbursed by federal officials who openly make speeches asking for support at the polls by reason of, or in return for, the checks sent out to the unfortunate jobless from the treasury. If the PWA thinks the money for relief was supplied only by Democrats and New Dealers, then maybe one of these days the taxpayers will go on a strike and refuse to pay any more taxes to a federal administration which so far forgets fairness and its obligations to society as to attempt by immoral methods to distribute the taxpayers' money.

Democracy cannot thrive under conditions of fundamental dishonesty and immorality in government. When the party in power starts abusing the public purse, it starts a disaffection which can only hurt the whole institution of government and bring on conditions from which dictatorships are born.

Society Prepares To Observe 50th Birthday in Fall

Originally Organized to Beautify and Care For Cemetery

Chilton — The Ladies' Aid society is preparing to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its organization some time in the fall. The society, organized as the German Ladies' Aid society, was started for the purpose of beautifying and caring for the local cemetery. The society was originally a reading circle, the members meeting once every two weeks and taking turns in reading books aloud. Money was raised in various ways for the care of the cemetery, by bazaars, suppers, and so on. The first president was the late Mrs. Otto Rollmann.

Later the society was enlarged to include any woman who was interested in the upkeep of the cemetery. Women from all Protestant churches in the city are members. Only two of the charter members of the society are still living, and are members, Mrs. William Schaefer and Mrs. Anna Heymer.

The present president is Mrs. Henry Kroll.

Mrs. Lionel Mulholland of Boston, Mass., and Miss Frances Glenn of Beloit visited their aunt, Miss Minnie Gieve, on Monday. Both are daughters of the late Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Glenn. Miss Glenn is principal of the junior high school in Beloit.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Mortimer have moved to Mayville, where the former will operate a tavern. George Fuchs has leased the tavern just a stray dog. A Bannack woman gave him a home, and now he's a hero.

IT WAS A HOT NIGHT

In his recent so-called fireside chat to the country the President broke new ground.

He made mention of platform pledges. Is it fair to assume that they are coming back in style? As the man who made an all time record for the White House in breaking numerous promises he made the people, presumably to gather their support. Mr. Roosevelt has heretofore discreetly avoided the question. But it now appears safe to become bold, disregard a record that is quite black, for time erases memories and the people quickly forget.

Mr. Roosevelt also discussed the question of errors, mistakes, in relation to policy or practice, and particularly in their effect upon the prevailing depression which many people have honored by naming it after the President.

From the President's statement it is evident that he has found out what is the matter with the country. The business men made some mistakes. Yes, even the workers and their leaders blundered. And, horrifying thought, the noble congress made some errors.

But Mr. Roosevelt, the pure and spotless, made nary a one. Partaking of the qualities of a god like Adolf and Benito our Augustus is of finer fiber than the rough and common clay and not subject to the whims of outrageous fortune.

And what is even better, when we come to consider the magnificence of mentality of him who rules us, every error made by business, by labor and by congress might have been avoided had those involved been smart enough to follow the advice of him who receives plenty of his from Tommy the Cork.

Had congress only enough sense to pass the laws requested by the President, even the alleged dictatorial measures, had industry only operated its affairs with the Solomonlike wisdom Mr. Roosevelt exposed to it and which must have come to him in a dream as he never had anything to do with industry in his life, or had labor leaders forgotten what they learned in 30 or 40 years of experience and knuckled in to his suggestions, we would all be knee deep in clover.

We may gather, therefore, that the President himself has not yet made an error. His promise that he will tell us about it when such a misfortune occurs is therefore still unbroken.

He makes this sort of personal report to the people in spite of embarrassing blushes and only to keep the record straight, and in the hope too that just because his career is perfect no one will think him at all egotistical.

LOVE AND DUTY IN THE TITANIC STRUGGLE

For quite a spell in Chicago a young man, desperate and heavily armed, had been robbing gas stations and restaurants just as the sun was to come up every morning. He was dubbed "the dawn bandit." His conduct was so vicious and his devilry so evident the Chicago papers spent a good deal of ink upon him, describing his features, clothes and actions in detail.

Suddenly there developed in one of Chicago's policemen the fear that this bandit was his boy. The more he considered the details and descriptions furnished by the victims the more certain became his conclusion. And to this conclusion was added another carmine colored terror. That boy would shoot and shoot to kill. He would not be taken alive. Even though surrounded by a regiment he was just enough of a fool dare-devil to start shooting.

Here is a plot authors have tried to present for centuries, from the dawn of the Greek drama to the apogee of hair-raising Italian opera. It presents the struggle between love and duty in its most agonizing form.

But the Chicago copper was true to his uniform. He made his decision with something large in his throat. He reported his suspicion to his superiors. He was able to give information concerning the boy's haunts. A squad concealed itself where he directed. The boy came in. At sight of the officers he pulled his gun and was soon riddled with bullets. The father walked wearily into his superior's office and asked for a leave of absence which was readily granted.

He merits something more—a medal for courage.

OPPORTUNITY IN THE PRIMARIES

Conscientious men occasionally criticize the primary election system on the ground that too often the wrong candidates are nominated. In the good old days, they feel, party conventions selected a higher average of candidates. True or not, it is quite evident that the voters themselves too often give credence to this sort of criticism by staying away from the polls in large numbers on primary election day.

There should, however, be no argument raised against the primary election system by the Republican party of Wisconsin this year. True, there was some scattered opposition, at first, to turning all Republican hopefuls loose in an open primary campaign, yet this very opposition—when one thinks of the Republicans' aching need for making the electorate better acquainted with, and fonder of, the party—is hard to understand. Under the convention method, of course, Republicans were always free to tour the state, but there were fewer of them to do the touring than will be available from now until September.

As affairs stand today, Republican candidates will be—or certainly should be—stumping the state from top to bottom and side to side for nearly three months. This change in campaign technique can hardly fail to bear fruit, for there are undoubtedly portions of Wisconsin where a Republican speaker hasn't been heard for years. Besides, conditions being what they are, people may be more inclined to listen to LaFollette and Roosevelt opposition than they were in 1936.

The time was never quite so ripe for vigorous Republican activity, providing the party has learned most of its lessons and is physically and morally ready to put up a good fight. This year, at least, the Republicans can be thankful for the opportunity offered by the primary election system. If, by this opportunity, Wisconsin is awakened to doing its part toward turning the national tide from bureaucracy to democracy, the state will also have reason to be thankful.

FORD'S 35TH ANNIVERSARY

On the 35th anniversary of the creation of the Ford Company its well known president issued one of his well publicized statements. He said:

"... I never gave a single thought to making money. I don't give it a thought today... Most people are trying to fix the world and the world is fixing them... The same door of opportunity is not open to young men that was open when I was a young man, but there is a door and it is wide open and the chances for success are still good. The best future for the young man is the farm."

Opinions Of Others

MR. LEHMAN STEPS OUT

In 1936 Gov. Lehman of New York announced that he would not run for governor again because his private affairs were in urgent need of his attention. But he did run at presidential urging, and now, without presidential urging, he announces himself as a candidate for the United States senatorship in succession to Mr. Copeland.

The Latin adage "de gustibus non disputandum" still holds true. In New Jersey Dr. Moore laid aside the toga to return to his first Trenton love, Dr. Moore is said to have presidential ambitions, and if one Princetonian went from the banks of the Delaware to the White House, could not another?

But it's all a question of placement. Was not Martin Van Buren governor of New York? Was not Grover Cleveland? Was not Theodore Roosevelt? And was not Frank himself?

So was Alfred E. Smith, for that matter. And so was Charles Evans Hughes. Gov. Lehman must have left to his own reflections. Warren G. Harding was senator, but his translation to the White House was a phase rather than a precedent. The senate is full of former governors, not to mention presidential aspirants. It takes a fearful lot of reputations. The senate is, as far as press and public are concerned, first of all a forum, and the man without forensic capabilities does not shine there, except from the prestige of long service or unique personal qualities.

The present lesson that must be derived from Gov. Lehman's ambition is that he likes public life and that his banking business will somehow take care of itself. Should New York state name Messrs. Wagner and Lehman represent it in the senate, that would be indeed a distinguished representation. Mr. Wagner, not a native-born, is indelible for the highest political honors, and what is in Mr. Lehman's mind one need not at this time inquire.—Newark, (N. J.) Evening News

HE WAS A PLEASANT little man, quite clean, and with a nice smile... he came to the back door Sunday morning just after I had thumped down the stairs in pajamas and slippers to bring in the morning papers... I stared at him through the fog that clouds one's vision on arising... "Canst du gissen me something to essen?" he asked... why, he can't speak English, I told myself... then the thought flashed through my slightly clearing head of how a stranger, asking for food, would probably be treated in whichever Scandinavian country this little man came from... but nothing was ready, the boss not yet having interrupted her slumbers, and the paper boys had garnered all the change in the house... "I'm sorry," I said... and I was... the little man looked at me and at the Christmas gift pajamas I wore... he smiled again, and I like to think he got the idea... "Escoos me"... back on his head went his hat; firmly, he strode down the drive... not a bum who had been turned away, but a stranger in a foreign land who had stopped at the wrong house... I was glad to hear later that one of the earlier rising neighbors had shared my reaction and was able to make good for the little man... a smile sometimes tells more than a sob story...

A Verse for Today
By Anne Campbell

THE RATTLE OF THE STOVE LIDS

I can recall impressions
Of childhood's long ago.
I smell the wood fire burning,
And see the oil lamps glow.
Old sounds come back to waken
My memory of days
When Grandpa chopped the cedar
And fed it to the blaze.

We had, even in summer,
To carry in the wood;
And breakfast from a cook-stove
Is most sustaining food.
There came, above the warbling
Of Grandma's feathered choir
The rattle of the stove lids
When Grandpa made the fire.

The flapjacks and the syrup,
From our own maple trees,
Made breakfast so alluring
If could not help but please
Our diera and mighty grandpa.
Who grumbled as he strove
With us to fill the woodbox
And bring chips for the stove.

I heard the birds this morning,
But mingled with their song
There were no kitchen noises
Like those remembered long;
No children in the chip-yard,
No vigorous old sire!
No rattling of the stove lids
As Grandpa made a fire!

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

John E. Hantschel, Outagamie county clerk, was honored by the Wisconsin County Clerks' association by being reelected secretary of the state association at the annual convention at Milwaukee last week.

The arrangement committee for the Memorial day program of 1928 was selected at a meeting of the program committee at the city hall the previous evening. The committee was composed of J. D. Hanchett, Bertier Peterson, Richard Sykes, George Dame, Major Fred Hoffman, W. H. Zuehlke and Mrs. Viola Fox.

Remodeling of the interior of the Appleton fire department was started that week to provide storage space for the old steam pumping engine. Firemen were doing the work.

Henry Boldt, Herman Abitz, Harry Emens and Simon Van Gorp, all of Appleton, attended the Wisconsin Fox Breeders association convention at Sheboygan the previous weekend. Fox breeders from 22 states attended the sessions.

The Hotel Van Susteren, Little Chute, was sold by Henry Van Susteren to John Lamers for a consideration of $12,000.

John Diderich purchased the interest of Lee Thompson in the Saecker-Thompson furniture store.

Vital statistics of Appleton for the month of June as given out by City Physician Doherty were: weddings, 35; births, 35; deaths, 27; accidents, 1.

The police department was making a raid on sidewalk playe rders. Six were arrested the day previous by Officer Walter Scherck and paid a fine of $1 and costs of $4.00.

The new telephones that were being installed by the Wisconsin Telephone company were a small black and nickel box arrangement that took up only about one-quarter the wall space of the former telephone.

The public library was to close at 6 o'clock during the months of July and August.

Personal Health Talks

FOUNDING IT OFF

Anonymous postcard:
For your enlightenment. It is possible to reduce the measurements of different parts of the body by effortless, passive massage. An acquaintance described how her girth had been lessened. I secretly tried it on my own hips, and can now wear skirts one size smaller.

In a Pickwickian sense actual reduction is sometimes achieved while the credulous one undergoes some such manipulation, but the restrictions of diet imposed for the duration of the course account for the reduction.

From the description one woman gives of such a course of "reduction treatment" the massage is not excessive or passive for the subject. On the contrary it is so vigorous that the subject has to exert herself more or less in resistance to every thrust, punch or pull, and following some seances the subject shows black and blue marks from the work-out. I suppose it is a national characteristic to prefer to have the work done by a paid servant, but were it not for that impediment a woman would unquestionably derive more benefit in every way from a half hour of vigorous housework, washing, scrubbing, sweeping, ironing, or from a half hour of play at any active game, or from a brisk two mile walk, than she can possibly get from any kind of massage, manipulation or mauling, so far as her figure is concerned.

The era of freak dieting is now fading away. So many women suffered serious impairment of health from misguided attempts to reduce in a hurry, with the so-called "Hollywood" and other dangerous fads, that women with brains are thinking twice before they gamble their health on any diet today.

After all, superfluous weight or flesh is not laid on in a week or a month but as a rule it is years in accumulating, generally put on not faster than a pound or two a month.

That being true, it is good sense and good physiology to get rid of it gradually at the rate of a pound or two a month, or at most not more than a pound or two a week when all the conditions are favorable for such rapid reduction. In this way the superfluous weight or bulk is corrected without loss of vitality or good looks. Indeed, the overweight individual who reduces in a physiological healthful way not only suffers no injury to health but should and generally does experience a definite increase in vito, pep, well being. If her health is fair or good to begin with it will be better or optimal when she gets back to what for her is normal weight and size.

It is well to remember that weight and bulk are not the same thing. Muscle is heavier than fat but not so bulky. Therefore it is possible to grow slender at the same time the weight remains stationary or even increases a little—due to the substitution of new muscle tissue for flabby fat which is burned up by active exercise.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Hail to All Good Nurses

You say nothing can be absorbed thru the skin. When I was a nurse thirty-five years ago we gave injections of mercury ointment and the patients absorbed it, sometimes enough, to become salivated. (Mrs. G. S. C.)

Answer — I do not doubt it. But it is well recognized now that the mercury is absorbed, not thru the skin, but by inhalation of the volatilized mercury.

Tonsilleclomy

My son's tonsils were removed surgically four years ago. Now a throat specialist says a part of the tonsil is still there and he wants to operate on it. The child is scared to death of another operation. The specialist says the small piece of tonsil may cause trouble with the eyes if not removed. (Mrs. H. L. S.)

Answer — If he were my child I'd have the tag tonsil sterilized with diathermy.

Paget's Disease

Husband has what doctors call Paget's disease of the bones. Would appreciate any information. (Mrs. E. H. C.)

Member of my family has "Paget's Disease." Can't seem to find out anything about it. (E. H. H.)

Answer — Deforming bone inflammation. Cause unknown. In some cases great benefit and lasting relief obtained from daily massive doses of vitamin D. (Copyright, 1938)

Seen And Heard In New York

BY GEORGE TUCKER

New York — Perhaps it was because of the contented look on the faces of their customers... Or maybe they were making so much money they were compelled to look about for new responsibilities... Nevertheless, such a way of domesticity has swept over La Conga that now nobody, least of all themselves, knows where it will end.

There were the three owners, Bobby Martyn, Oscar Roche and Miguel Roldan. There was Gloria Font, the little cigarette girl. And there was Dorothy Ross, the press-agent and wife of a New York newspaperman.

So La Conga opened, became a major stop along the carriage trade route, and then things began to happen in this order:

1. Weary of bachelorhood Bobby Martyn took himself a wife.
2. Then the 2nd associate, Oscar Roche, walked in one night and announced, beaming, that the fence wasn't the only thing running around his house. He had a fine young son.

3. Shortly thereafter Mrs. Ross became the mother of a son, too.
4. Meanwhile, only Miguel Roldan remained a bachelor among the three associates. So he convinced Gloria Font, the little cigarette girl, that single status wasn't so good after all. Down to the City Hall for a license went they, then over to a magistrate's chambers, where they were married.

Verily La Conga, which epitomizes sophisticated after dark entertainment in New York, is knee-deep in rice and rattles.

Cab driver 13482 says: "Sure, business is good, but, like anything else, you gotta know how to get it... No excuse for a man not making a good living, driving a hack... But you gotta have savvy... You gotta know when to cruise and when not to cruise... You gotta know for a fact a man wants a hack, and then you slow down for him... How do I know?... Don't ask me... But that's what I calls having hack savvy... I can always tell when a man is about to make up his mind to get in a hack... With folks tipping short, I likes the long hauls... From Times Square to the Bronx... From Washington Square to the Yankee Stadium... It's them long hauls that pays the freight... But I hates them Brooklyn tricks... Man, I hates going to Brooklyn... Dunno why it is, but I never been there in m'life without getting plum lost."

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—Every year seads of college boys skip into Washington to present a nice front for the government when the tourists move in, and it always amazes and delights them to have to take an oath to uphold the constitution.

Even more of them get jobs as guides and bone-fide lecturers in the national parks and various historic spots. These also have to swear (to affirm) to uphold the constitution while they tell dusty tourists about the difference between igneous (heatborn) rocks and common sandstone heaped up from the bottom of some prehistoric ocean to await the arrival of the trailer hordes.

While the boys have to swear to uphold the constitution they don't have to read it and it is a reasonable surmise that a fair to middling percentage of them never have. That is not necessarily to be held against them because to our certain knowledge some members of congress never have read it although they know in a general way what it contains. Nobody can truly get away from the constitution in this city.

Altogether several hundred college boys get these jobs and take these oaths and draw pay checks which, while not large, amount to a sort of government scholarship, since the boys use the money to buy books, corsages, a noggin of ale and other ingredients of a modern education.

Strange things happen, and one arises in connection with the death of Senator Copeland of New York. At the time of the sudden death last year of Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas a sort of gloom settled over the senate chamber because he, like Copeland, died evidently as a result of the intense pressure on members of congress during debates over great issues or when masses of business pile up.

After a recess in one afternoon just after Robinson's death, we sat in the chamber beside Copeland discussing this and that in the subdued tones the gloom seemed to compel.

"Who is likely to be the next one to drop off?" we asked expecting a sort of professional answer, since Senator Copeland was the only physician-member. Without hesitation, he pointed to a member who had taken an active part in the debates on the court bill. That senator is still alive and Copeland, instead, was the first to drop off.

We asked him to explain the basis of his judgment and he commented that when a man begins to grow thin at the back of the neck the cards are stacked against him. Incidentally, another senator reported the same observation about thinning necks.

Toddling Turtles

These are the days of migrating turtles in Washington and no seasoned resident is especially alarmed when he goes to the front door and finds a little shellback nuzzling about the butter left by the dairyman.

A few are kept as pets but most people just put them out on the grass or load them into the back of the car to be dropped off in a near-by stream. Rarely is a big one found roistering about in such unfamiliar surroundings, but little fellows of two to eight inches in length (or width, take your choice) are not uncommon.

Kentucky, California Residents at Waupaca

Waupaca — Miss Pearl Chamberlain will have as her guests this week Miss Ethel West of River Falls, Randolph Wilson of Glasgow, Ky., Mrs. A. A. Prior to coming to Waupaca the women attended the graduation of Miss Margaret Brown from Smith college, Northampton, Mass. After a few days' stay in New York city they motored to Waupaca, accompanied by Miss Margaret.

Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Parrish and children spent Sunday at Marshfield where they visited their daughter and sister, Miss Pauline Parrish, who is taking nursing training at St. Joseph's hospital.

Workmen Ahead of Schedule on WPA Project at School

Remodeling of Old High School Building 15 Per Cent Completed

Remodeling work at Morgan school is three weeks ahead of schedule and about 15 per cent completed, according to A. James Lytle, Jr., who is supervising the project for the board of education. Fifteen skilled laborers augment the WPA crew of 12 men and the work is progressing much faster than expected, Lytle said. WPA work will be suspended from Tuesday to July 11 to make payroll periods coincide with the federal government's fiscal year. However, the men will continue on the Morgan school project and will be paid by the school board.

Orthopedic school equipment has been completely moved to Morgan school and workmen now are rebuilding partitions in the west portion of the first floor for the orthopedic school. There will be a physiotherapy room, a hydrotherapy room, rest rooms for boys and girls and storerooms in that end of the building.

Building Ramp

A ramp, beginning at the rear of the structure, will enter the building through the auditorium and gymnasium and will terminate at floor level in the main hallway. Workmen are beginning to clear the way for the ramp. An elevator for the crippled children also will be built.

Old high school vault on the first floor is being removed and a new one will be constructed on the second floor in the new administration offices.

Workmen are tearing out partitions in that section of the building and will rebuild them to accommodate the superintendent of schools, his office staff, the school nurses, grade teachers' library, a meeting room and the truancy officer.

The building is being rewired and work on the plumbing and heating systems will be started in about a week. The rewiring work will be finished in about 10 days, Lytle said. Materials worth using again are being salvaged and used in the remodeling.

Former Lincoln school grades will be housed on the second floor in the north half of the building and the administration offices will be in the south half of the second floor. The opportunity school will take the space occupied by the principal's office and several high school classrooms.

Fined for Not Using Garbage Containers

John Alpert, owner of the ABC Food Market at 206 E. College avenue, was fined $2 and costs by Municipal Judge Thomas H. Ryan this morning after he entered a plea of nolo contendere to a charge of disposing of garbage without using containers. Claude Greisch, deputy health officer, signed a complaint stating that on June 18 Alpert left garbage in the alley back of his market without storing it in the proper receptacles.

Alpert pleaded not guilty to two other charges concerning the display of vegetables at his market, his trial was set for July 22, and the bond on each charge at $200.

He was accused of violating a state law by displaying vegetables outdoors not securely covered and less than two feet above the sidewalk and of breaking a city ordinance by not having the vegetables at least 18 inches above the walk. Both complaints were signed by Greisch.

State CCC Quota Will be Boosted To 5,500 in July

Increase Will Not Take Care of All Applicants, Officials State

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—An increase in Wisconsin's CCC quota from 4,800 boys to 5,500 effective July 1 was announced today by H. W. Perrigo, supervisor of special programs for the state public welfare department.

Despite the increased quota, officials said, there will not be enough room in the state's 45 CCC camps to enroll all eligible boys in the state who have applied for entrance into the corps.

In January, for example, more than four times as many young men made application for enrollment as could be accepted, and more than 2,000 were unable to enroll, Perrigo said.

Enrollment will start July 1, and requisitions to county officials will be effective until July 14 only. After that date, shortages in counties which fail to fill their requisitions will be transferred to other counties where there are surplus applicants.

45 CCC Camps

On May 31 there were 4,626 boys in Wisconsin camps, although by July 1 authorities expect that the number will be reduced to about 4,000, leaving 1,500 new places to be filled with the new quota enrollments.

At present there are only 45 CCC camps in the state, although at one time there were 87. In June 13 of the camps were assigned to work on national forests, 12 to state forests, 13 to soil conservation projects, and 7 to state parks. Since the CCC program was begun more than five years ago, 45,000 Wisconsin boys have enrolled.

According to a new study made of enrollees, most of them belong to families in need of public assistance. Only 14 per cent were "unemployed and in need of relief. Most are between the ages of 17 and 20, and few have finished high school, although about half of them attended high school for varying periods.

Among the July requisitions to counties are the following in the Appleton area:

- Brown 15
- Outagamie 21
- Calumet 6
- Waupaca 20
- Shawano 20
- Manitowoc 31
- Winnebago 24

Seymour Firemen Make 1st Run With New Truck, Save Home

Fire believed to have started from a defective chimney caused about $500 damage to the farm home of Henry Kauth, town of Center, about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The loss was covered by insurance.

Seymour firemen, who were called after several other departments refused to make a run, extinguished the blaze and saved most of the house and protected the barns.

It was the first call in which the new Seymour fire truck was used, according to Herbert Tubbs, secretary-treasurer of the Seymour-Osbourn Rural Fire department. The truck was purchased from the Hortonville Rural Fire Truck company and is available for all fire calls in the vicinity of Seymour, Tubbs said.

he was given a resignation slip for his signature.

Five of the group signed, but William Lounsbury and S. O. Simonson refused to sign or to quit and were discharged.

The mass meeting previously voted to use dividend funds to pay 15 or more pickets $1.50 a day for the next week to keep union men out of the plant.

All of the ousted employees finally marched out, two by two, under protection of the sheriff. A burst of handclapping accompanied their departure through a lane of the patrons who blocked the street in front of the building.

Sheriff McLaren and Chief of Police George Spangler of Richland Center had made preparations to prevent violence. A city fire truck was on hand to play a hose on the crowd if necessary. A dozen deputies and police officers were in the crowd.

Reports were current that the union men had been instructed not to resist, and that if they were ousted pickets would be sent here from Milwaukee tomorrow to prevent farmers from delivering milk to the plant.

Gettysburg, Pa. —(AP)—The last guard of the armies of the north and south which met 75 years ago on this rolling battlefield was answered the call to reunion today—coming back by automobile, bus and train.

For eight days the boys of '65 will camp and trade tales of war and peace as the nation celebrates the seventy-fifth anniversary of the battle.

For the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning, the highest mark in the city was 72 and the lowest 52, according to charts at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company plant.

Weather will be unsettled tomorrow in the northwest portion of the state and continued cool along the shores of Lake Superior and Lake Michigan.

Paying Price of Neglect, Barton Tells Educators

New Yorker Points to Declining Interest in Government

New York —(AP)—Representative Bruce Bratton (R-N.Y.) told the National Education association convention today that "we are paying the price in this country of 50 years of the neglect of government on the part of our so-called best people."

"You and I have had less interest in government than our father had," he said. "Our children have less than we."

"The result has been a drying up of the sense of individual and community responsibility, and altogether too much surrender of rights and activities to Washington."

He said a resident of a western city had told him of discussion groups formed there by and for the young people, to cover the principal problems and interests of modern life.

"It was found that two subjects, and only two, would pack the hall. These were the problems of love and marriage, and the problems of getting and keeping a job."

Politics Ignored

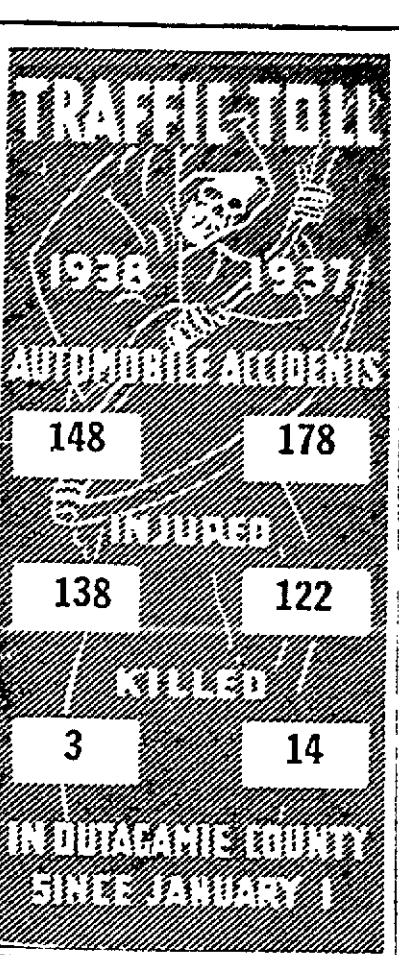

"In the association of religion there was little interest. In the discussion of politics there was positively no interest at all."

A young child's "I. Q." can be changed for the better under favorable environmental conditions, George Stoddard, director of the child welfare research station at Iowa City, Iowa, told the teachers.

Stoddard said recent tests contradicted the old theory that the intelligence endowment of birth continues immutably throughout life.

The best tests available showed that for 600 children who attended the preschools sponsored in the station, there was an average gain of 20 I. Q. (intelligence measurement) points, he told the National Education association convention.

"It was shown also that those who were in school longest made the greatest gains," he added, "and that the gains were made during attendance in the preschools."

The new men will be put to work here July 11, Webster said, the date of the opening of the project in the city parks. Appleton and Kaukauna will each have nine new men, Kimberly seven, and Little Chute five.

Indiana Trooper Fatally Wounded

after a 24-hour pursuit by police of Indiana and Illinois. His brother down, Orelle surrendered.

To the long list of crimes attributed to the brothers, whose outlaw career began three weeks ago when they left their home at Valley City, N. D., was added the slaying of an Indiana state trooper, Ray Dixon, 28, who was shot yesterday at LaPorte, Ind., a few hours after the Easton brothers were trapped on the Warner farm.

Sheriff Stack said he had received a telegram from relatives of the slain Easton asking that his body be sent to Valley City for burial.

Dixon was shot without warning near LaPorte Sunday night when he stopped to offer aid to the Easton brothers whose car was stalled.

Calls Brother Slayer

Orelle, held in jail here, blamed his brother for the slaying. He said his brother "handled the gun" in a series of escapades which began when they left their Valley City, N. D., home June 9.

The brothers were accused of robberies, holdups, automobile thefts, shootings, and abductions. Two Indiana deputies, an Illinois farmer and his son were abducted in the Easton's flight after the shooting of Dixon. The deputies were released near Cook, Ind., and the farmer and his son were captured with their car, driven by the outlaws, stalled near Des Moines, Ill.

Norman Sallwasser, deputy prosecutor of LaPorte county, said a grand jury indictment charging Easton with the slaying of Dixon would be sought immediately.

Be A Safe Driver

OUR MODERN AGE

By LEO J. MURPHY, D. C.

LABOR RELATIONS

Because our Government is interested in knowing the "whys" and "wherefores" that have brought about the peaceful state of industrial relations in Great Britain and Sweden, the President has appointed a special committee to study and report on the labor situation in these countries. In addition to a number of prominent industrialists the committee includes a school teacher and an A. F. L. laborite. It is earnestly hoped that despite all opposition the committee will hit upon something that will be of value to labor and industry throughout the country.

American Cheese Manufacture Up In Badger State

Gain of 28 Per Cent in May Over April Is Announced

Chicago —(AP)—The manufacture of American cheese in Wisconsin increased 28 per cent in May over April, it was announced today in a summary of business conditions in the seventh federal reserve district released by the federal reserve bank of Chicago.

American cheese manufacture in the state also totaled 23 per cent greater than in the same month in 1937, and was 21 per cent more than the 1928-37 May average.

Tonnage distribution of cheese from Wisconsin primary markets, however, declined in all these comparisons, aggregating 23, 17, and 10 per cent, respectively, less than a month earlier, a year ago, and the 10-year average for the period.

Excess Doubled

United States inventories of cheese rose 35 million pounds in May, any by June 1, the excess over the 1933-37 average had almost doubled to 25 million pounds.

Cheese prices held steady until late May, and after a slight downward adjustment remained unchanged through the first three weeks of June.

Continued excellent pasturage during May effected seasonal expansion over the high April levels in butter and cheese manufacture. Creamery butter production by seventh district plants was the largest for any month since July, 1935, and aggregating 49 per cent more than in April, 15 per cent more than in May, 1937, and 1 per cent above the 1928-37 average for the month.

Similar Trends

Butter trends were shown for but one month in the United States, except that not so heavy an increase was recorded over April. Seventh district butter sales likewise expanded considerably, exceeding the April year-earlier, and May average levels by 26, 12, and 6 per cent, respectively.

Total United States stocks of creamery butter on June 1 were 35 million pounds larger than a month previous—a much greater than seasonal expansion—and stood also heavily in excess of year ago inventories and the 1933-37 average for the date.

After earlier declines, butter prices at Chicago held steady in the latter half of May; quotations softened somewhat in the first week of June but had completely recovered by June 22, mainly owing to extensive government purchases.

Water Bills to be Mailed at Neenah

Change System of Delivering Statements to Consumers

Neenah—Residents will receive their water bills for the quarter at the reduced rate of approximately 25 per cent soon, City Clerk H. S. Zemlock reported this morning. He said that the bills will be mailed Wednesday.

The clerk explained that the system of delivering bills on foot by employees of the department has been changed to making the bills out on postcards and sending them through the mails.

The 25 per cent reduction will include all patrons living within the city limits, and the rate will remain as it was for those residents outside the city. The minimum bill for consumers within the city is $2, but they are allowed $4.166 gallons instead of 3,100 gallons for this sum.

The new rates provide for a 10 per cent discount on water consumed up to 300,000 gallons for payment within 15 days. The former rates provided for a penalty of 10 per cent if not paid within 10 days.

Teams Requested to Get Permits to Use Diamond

Neenah—To avoid conflict between softball teams using the diamonds on the three playgrounds high school, Washington park and Columbian park, the members are requested to get permits from Armin Gerhardt, playground director. A team presenting a permit will be given preference on a diamond over another team without a permit. This ruling doesn't include regular scheduled games such as those conducted by the Neenah softball association's two leagues.

The Twin Cities Office of the Appleton Post-Crescent for its editorial, circulation and advertising departments is located at 510 N. Commercial street and the telephone number is 4100. News items, copy or orders for advertising and orders for subscriptions may be left at the office or may be telephoned. Neenah—A special meeting of the common council has been called for 7:30 tonight at the city hall by Mayor W. J. Jensen to take action on applications for tavern and operator's permits. Thirty-five tavern license applications have been received by City Clerk Walter J. Dougherty and about 15 operator's permits. More requests for operator's permits are expected today.

The council at a recent session passed an ordinance limiting the number of taverns in the city to 35. If the council approves all requests, the city treasury will benefit by $4,375. A tavern license costs $125, of which $75 is for the liquor permit and $50 for the beer permit. Operator's permits cost $5 each. The council will not take action on cigar and other permits at this session.

Other matters to come before the council at the session tonight will be authorization of the purchase of second-hand trucks for use in the WPA projects, action on a request for sidewalk on Konemac street under the WPA project, and advertisement for bids on road oil and sewer pipe, according to Walter J. Porath Receives Adjournment on Abatement Plea

Will Plead to Information Charging Manslaughter July 26

Neenah—Otto Porath, Neenah, scheduled to plead Monday to an information charging fourth degree manslaughter, drew a 30-day adjournment of his case when his attorney, Arnold J. Cane, Menasha, filed a plea of abatement before Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger Monday afternoon.

Porath was the driver of one of the cars involved in a collision in which Attorney D. K. Allen, Oshkosh, was fatally injured.

The plea cited several points as its basis including claims of insufficient evidence to sustain the charge and the claim that the judge of the lower branch of court was without jurisdiction from the facts produced at the preliminary examination to bind the defendant over.

Porath also challenged the arrest on the grounds of allegedly having been placed in double jeopardy. He was convicted May 16 on a charge of reckless driving, resulting from the same offense. Tuberculosis Vaccine Results in Reduction of Children Death Toll

BY STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Science Writer
Ottawa—A marked decrease in the number of deaths from tuberculosis among young children has been achieved recently by the use of tuberculosis vaccine, the American Association for the Advancement of Science was told today.

This development of immunity to the "white plague" among children, the most susceptible group, has been accomplished by use of the bacillus calmette-guerin vaccine, originally developed at the Pasteur institute in Paris, France, more than 10 years ago. Dr. J. A. Baudouin of the University of Montreal declared.

Some scientists who studied Dr. Baudouin's report declared that his conclusions might prove as forceful as those of Louis Pasteur, discoverer of immunity to disease, when he announced his inoculation to prevent smallpox.

Dr. Baudouin reported 573 cases which had been vaccinated and were known to have been in long contact with active tuberculosis patients in their families. These were the most difficult trial cases.

For comparison he showed the records of 943 unvaccinated children who also lived in families with one or more members having active tuberculosis.

During the 12 years since vaccination was begun 198 children from both groups contracted tuberculosis and 61 of them died.

Of the 573 in the vaccinated group only 40 contracted the disease and 11 of them died. In the group of 943 unvaccinated children 158 acquired tuberculosis and 50 of them died.

Issue Regulations To Promote Safety On Wisconsin Roads
Madison—The public service commission today laid down rules and regulations for truckers to promote safety on Wisconsin highways.

Similar to safety rules adopted by the federal interstate commerce commission, Wisconsin regulations cover qualification of drivers, operators of trucks and buses, equipment and accessories required, testing of equipment, and reporting of accidents.

Drivers of motor vehicles subject to public service commission control, are made responsible for the condition of brakes, lighting devices, horns, windshield wipers, mirrors, tires, steering mechanism and coupling devices.

Buses which seat 10 or more passengers and which operate outside cities or villages must carry metal first aid kits, hand axes, jacks and an approved fire extinguisher.

"The provisions of these rules and of the statutes are either the same or less exacting than the requirements laid down by the interstate commerce commission," the state commission said. "Carriers who comply with the federal rules will not thereby incur violation of Wisconsin requirements."

Frosted Products to Be Distributed Here

The Honor Brands Frosted Foods corporation will begin the distribution of 70 frozen foods products through the Wisconsin Distributing company here within three weeks. It was announced yesterday by the corporation's representative in this area, William H. Page.

The Honor Brand company has fruits and vegetables in the region where they are grown and at the exact time they are ripe, usually within from 30 to 90 minutes after they are picked.

The products, frozen in temperatures ranging from 15 to 50 below zero, includes fruits, berries, vegetables, fish, sea foods, and poultry. Besides making it possible for the housewife to have fresh products throughout the year, the freezing process saves considerable table preparation, for the foods are ready to serve.

The frozen products will be distributed through stores here in half-pound and pound containers, wrapped first in cellophane and then in wax paper. Because the products are not cooked, the original vitamins remain in the fruits and vegetables through the freezing process, the Honor Brand company claims.

morning at Trinity English Lutheran church. At St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church the Rev. T. J. Sauer preached on "Not I, But We of Well Doing." The Sacrament of the Altar was observed in both the English and German services Sunday morning at St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran church. Revival services are being held at 7:45 each night this week at the New Appleton tabernacle, with the Johns Evangelical Messengers from Sturgis, Mich., in charge. Jubilee night will be observed Saturday night.

"Christian Science" was the subject of the lesson-sermon read in the Church of Christ, Scientist, Sunday. The following citations from the Bible were included:

"And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us. And Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord. Then he touched their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you. And their eyes were opened. As they went out, behold they brought him a dumb man possessed with a devil. And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spoke."

Commerce, a tawdry kind of commerce, is the life blood of Maxwell street. The scale of values is strictly catch as catch can. You can't go by the labels.

Buildings, sidewalks and street merge into a chaotic profusion of awnings, stalls, carts and stands. The pedestrian must pick his way with care through the mazes of a mile of squalid street. The tuggings of insistent tradesmen invite inspection of conglomerate wares.

"Mister, a suit, yes? A fine garment. Here, feel it. Cost you twice as much in the loop."

Sensitive nostrils fare badly on Maxwell street. The novice is advised to sniff rather than inhale. There is nothing ambrosial about the combination of herring, garlic, pop corn, fruit and sundry.

A specially prepared pheasant mesh, very high in protein content, is sent out by the state conservation commission to be fed to these baby chicks. At three weeks of age the birds are able to fly and it is then necessary to clip one wing to prevent their leaving their enclosure.

They are liberated the ninth week, so the final wing clippings takes place about three weeks prior to the date on which the birds are to be released.

OCTAGON HOUSE BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

The Story So Far: Assey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, is investigating the murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has enraged Quantomel. She was killed by a left handed blow from the knife of her sister Pam Eysore, who lives in Octagon House. Interested parties are: Tim Carr, once married to Marina; Jack Lorne, the artist; Roddy Strutt, whose plane crashed the night of the murder; Peggy Boone, another artist; Jennings, an irate plumber; and persons unknown who smoke Turkish tobacco, burned down the barn, killed Assey, Tim and Pam's father, and destroyed Jack's mural sketches. Missing is a $50,000 lump of ambergris belonging to Pam. Interviewing Roddy's injured pilot, Assey learns the crash was deliberate and that Marina and a lot of others had probably seen the ambergris from the plane before Pam found it.

Chapter 38
Public Eysore No. One

"I had to hear the story of Roddy's plot," Assey told the Congressman, "before I could do anything. But you don't need to worry about making the Strutts mad. Just stick all the blame on me, an' in the end, who knows but what you'll get a field house an' gym thrown in with the park?" Elliott, I've just been thinkin' I never did get a good look at the mural I bust out laughin' on my first view. I had to leave before I got to the parts with the local boys in 'em. You got pull enough to get me into the post office on Sunday?"

Elliott smiled.

"Have I got pull?" Assey asked. "I have a gold plated key, all my own. If you want to get into the post office, we'll go to my house and get the key, and have a private view of Quantomel's Public Eysore Number One."

"I'll trail you over," Assey said.

Elliott's house was a long rambling place with so many ells and additions that even an architect would have had trouble picking out the original Cape Cod half house that had been the basis of it all.

"My daughter's around somewhere," Elliott said. "I think she knows where the key is--Jean! Hey, Jean--where are you? Jeanie, you know Assey Mayo, don't you? My daughter, Mrs. Dunn. Jean where's that gold post office key, d'you know?"

"That thing?" Jean wrinkled up her forehead. "Taddy had it last. He was playing St. Peter and the Gates of Heaven with it--didn't you give it to him?"

"Well yes, I guess I did," Elliott said. "But I need it now. Find it for me, will you?"

"Father, darling, when Ted plays with things, it's not the easiest thing in the world to find them on two seconds' notice. You shouldn't have given him the key, if you really wanted it intact. But I'll see what I can do. Maybe Della'll know where it is."

Della, a slightly distraught looking nursemaid, admitted that she hadn't seen the key since the baby played with it Saturday morning.

"Maybe he swallowed it," Jean said, as though that were the simplest solution.

"Oh, no!" Della protested. "I'm sure he didn't. He hasn't swallowed anything for a week. Perhaps the little Westover girl would know. She was playing with Taddy--"

"Come, come," Elliott said. "Come, come! We've got to find that key! Really, Jean, I know I let Taddy play with it, but I see no reason why the whole damn countryside has to use it as a plaything!"

"Darling, 'clim's down," Jean said. "I want that key! You go find it. Go shake the children by their necks. Stand 'em on their heads. Peer into their tonsils, if you want. But do find that key!"

Sometimes, Jean said, "I wish you were a simple taxpayer. Della, come on. We'll see if the Westover infant has any thoughts on the matter. What'd they put in that mole hole, d'you know?"

"No respect, that's what," Elliott said. "They treat me like an elderly neophyte. The whole lot of 'em, and--"

"An' you love it," Assey said.

"Well, yes, I suppose I do. Come on, an' as well wait for 'em to find the key. It'll turn up. You can't lose things like that. I've got a collection of teeth I've been trying to

Riggs and Parker In Valley Meet

Nationally Known Tennis Players to Show At Menasha
BEGIN PLAY JULY 4
Former Now Seeking Clay Courts Title At Chicago

A N array of tennis talent which has as much class as the national clay courts championships now being staged in Chicago, will compete for the Fox River valley singles and doubles titles at the Doty courts, Menasha, starting July 4 and continuing through July 11. The meet is being sponsored by Doty Tennis club with Hugh Strange, Jr., in charge.

Heading the field is Bobby Riggs, No. 2 in national standings, a certain member of the American Davis cup team this year, and the defending singles champion. Riggs came to the tournament last year as a pretty fair performer. He won the title and then went on to clean up in other tournaments and finally won a No. 2 national rating by virtue of a win over Frankie Parker.

The second ranking performer at the meet will be Frankie Parker, Milwaukee, and a member of the American Davis cup team last year. Parker's story is well known to every follower of tennis in Wisconsin and while he has been upset once or twice since his Davis cup accomplishments, he still is expected to gain a place on this year's team.

Still another chap of whom much is expected and who again is entered, is Frank Kovacs, a long, lanky youth who showed well last year and who is being groomed to eventually succeed Don Budge as national champion. Kovacs has height, reach and ability and as he matures should become champion. His work on the coast during the winter months drew much praise.

Elwood Cooke, a roly-poly netter, and runnerup in last year's meet, is another entrant. Cooke recently competed in the national clay courts tourney bowing to Gardner Mulloy, who also is entered at Menasha.

RIGGS IN SEMIS
Chicago—(4)—Bobby Riggs, the nation's No. 2 ranking tennis player, continued his bid for a third straight national clay courts championship today against Bryan (Bitt) Grant, who already has won the meet three times.

In the other semi-finals match today, Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., took on Joe Hunt of Los Angeles, finalist with Riggs last year. Riggs advanced yesterday at the expense of Harold Surface of Kansas City, 6-3, 6-4, 9-7, but Grant was forced five sets before he overcame Wilbur Cook, another Kansas City entry, 6-3, 7-5, 2-6, 1-6, 7-5. Mulloy downed Don McNeil, No. 9 ranking netter from Kenyon college, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1, and Hunt eliminated Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., 6-2, 6-6, 6-4.

Hunt and Lewis Wetherell of Santa Ana, Calif., turned back brothers Bill and Chet Murphy of Chicago, 6-2, 5-7, 8-6, 7-5 in the quarter finals doubles match and reached the finals on default.

Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Cal., and Frankie Parker of Milwaukee wished to move on to Cincinnati for the Tri-State meet and defaulted to John McDiarmid of Princeton, N. J., and Ernest Sutter, New Orleans.

Truckers, Piney Woods Will Clash
Negro Team to Show at Clintonville This Evening

Clintonville—Fresh from their 8 to 2 victory over Two Rivers Sunday, Clintonville Truckers will meet the Piney Woods Collegians here Tuesday night starting at 8:30. This year the Truckers management is trying to bring in several teams outside of the Northern State league and treat the fans to a special attraction. Last year the Truckers met the Collegians and although they received a beating they put up a good fight.

The colored team is on the road every day and boasts of having some of the best performers in the United States. It has defeated the House of David ball club, the Milwaukee Red Sox and the Madison Blues. During the last five years it has averaged over 100 wins a year. Manager Goetzner will use the game as an opportunity to give some new talent a chance to show its worth. Al Felts will be on the mound and Helm behind the plate.

Thursday night the Truckers will be host to Manitowish in a Northern State league encounter.

Senator Outfielder Is Sent to Hospital
Washington—(4)—Jonathan T. Stone, one of baseball's best outfielders, is out of the game for the season.

Clark C. Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, said Stone had a troublesome bronchial ailment. Stone has been a Senator for four years.

Johnny hit 330 last year. This year he couldn't get started. When he was benched last week because of poor health, his batting average was a weak .235.

Physicians at Georgetown hospital, where Stone has been confined since Manager Bucky Harris sent him here from Chicago, said he showed "great courage" to have played at all.

IN VALLEY NET MEET

Here's Bobby Riggs, Chicago, the defending Fox river valley singles tennis champion, who will show at the annual tournament starting July 4 at the Doty club courts. Riggs ranks No. 2 nationally. The trophy is one he won at the Sugar bowl tournament at New Orleans last winter.

Upset Features State Net Meet

Billy Strange, Neenah, Cops in the Junior Division

Dewey won a tight first set, 7-5, but had things more his own way in the second, which went 6-3.

Thirty-nine first round matches were played in men's, junior and boys' divisions yesterday. Women's competition began today.

Wyatt Belted Off Mound but Brews Defeat St. Paul

15-Hit Attack Gives Milwaukee Club a 12 To 9 Victory

ST. PAUL—(4)—Whitlow Wyatt was belted off the mound in the sixth inning by St. Paul yesterday, but the Milwaukee Brewers came back with a five-run splurge in the eighth to capture the opening game of the series, 12 to 9. Ralph Winegarner was the winning pitcher.

The home runs by Ollie Bejma and another by Le Roy Anton of the Saints weren't enough to overcome five errors by the home team. Oscar Grimes, Roy Johnson and Tom Irwin each contributed three hits to the 15-hit Brewer attack. Grimes homered in the third and hit a double in the eighth to drive in two of the five runs made in the inning. Irwin batted in four runs during the afternoon.

Allows 1 Hit
Indianapolis was the victim of the one-hit pitching of Nate Andrews, but even without the aid of the lone blow had taken a 1-0 lead over Columbus which it maintained going into the ninth. Here successive doubles by Lynn King and Jim Bucher, and Eddie Morgan's single gave Columbus a pair of runs and a 2 to 1 victory. Andrews had been removed for a pinch hitter in the sixth and George Hader, who replaced him, did not allow a hit in the one inning he batted.

A slugging demonstration came from Kansas City and more particularly from the big bat of Ed Miller as the Blues defeated Minneapolis in 10 innings, 8 to 2. In the ninth inning, Miller homered to tie the score at two all and in the extra inning with the bases loaded he homered again to clinch victory, although six runs crossed the plate before the Blues could be retired. Harry Davis and Joe Gallagher of Kansas City also hit for the circuit.

In yesterday's other encounter, Toledo put together six runs in the fifth inning to overpower Louisville, 9 to 5.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES
Atlas 8, Fox River 5.
Tuesday—Labor 931 versus Phone-Wires.
Wednesday—Coated versus Arcade.
Thursday—Kimberly-Clark versus Fox River.
Friday—Atlas versus Woolen Mills.

LOOSE fielding on the part of the Fox River team resulted in an 8 to 5 victory for Atlas softballers in an American league game at Roosevelt school diamond last evening. The win puts Atlas in a position to tie Woolen Mills for the first round championship. Woolen Mills and Atlas are scheduled to clash Friday evening in the final first round tilt while tonight's game will be the initial second round battle.

Fox River committed five errors last night and let three fly balls fall for hits in the third and fifth innings. One Atlas error gave Fox River its last two runs.

Wally Klein was on the mound for the winners and struck out eight while walking one and allowing 11 hits. Howard Branchford hurled for the Fox River team and struck out one while passing five and giving fourteen hits.

Bases Loaded
The first Fox River run came in the first inning when Klein walked Murphy who took second on a pass ball and scored on Branchford's hit. Atlas broke the scoring ice in the third stanza when Ritten singled and gained second on Vander Velden's single. Singles singled to load the bases. L. Getchow flied to center field and Ritten scored when the throw to home plate was wild. Gebheim's infield hit scored Vander Velden and Single scored when Meyers grounded out.

Fox River tied the score at 3-all in the fourth when Branchford doubled and scored ahead of Lammers when he hit a long home run. Atlas took a 5-3 lead in the fifth by scoring two runs as Single batted out an infield hit, stole second, and crossed the plate on a double authored by L. Getchow. Gebheim hit another double to score Getchow. Both balls hit by Getchow and Gebheim were easy flies which should have been caught.

Score Tied
The score was knotted at 5-5 in the sixth when Murphy batted an infield hit and stole second. Rammer singled to advance Murphy and both scored when Single fumbled Lammers' hit and overthrew first. Atlas took the lead in the sixth when Van Wyk led off with a single to center and E. Getchow's single sent Van Wyk to third. Van Wyk came home on a wild pitch.

Atlas added another in the seventh as Vander Velden singled and took an extra base on the overthrow to first. A wild pitch enabled him to reach third and he scooted for home when L. Getchow flied out. Atlas counted its last run in the eighth on Klein's single followed by Ritten's double.

Hortonville—Shiocton defeated Hortonville Sunday morning in an Outagamie County league game here, 6 and 3. Freddie Buchman was on the mound for the Hortonville team and had his curve ball working well enough until he had trouble with his control. Then he had to groove the ball and Shiocton hammered it for extra bases. He allowed eight safeties but two were homers, one a triple and another a double. He fanned 11 and walked 5. Sabrowski allowed nine hits, fanned four and walked none.

If Max Comes Back He'll Have to Beat Tommy Farr

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK—(4)—British papers say the Louis-Schmeling fight films will not be shown in Germany. . . Add strange sights: Brooklyn fans pulling for Bill Terry in the all-star game at Cincinnati next week. . . Broadway is betting 2 to 1 on the Americans . . . Well, our Navy showed 'em at Poughkeepsie, didn't they? . . . If Schmeling wants to come back, he'll have to dispose of Tommy Farr first. . . "Ja Wohl," add Mike Jacobs.

A lot of people can't understand why the American league managers picked Lou Gehrig over Hal Trosky (who is hitting just about 80 points more than the iron horse) for the all star team. . . Ball players say Clay Henson and the Cubs is a walking advertisement of the men's clothes layouts in Esquire. . . The Giants have voted Larry French of the Cubs the fastest-working pitcher in the National League.

Messrs. Al Weill and Eddie Mead, their respective managers, may not know it, but Armstrong and Ambers are going to stage their lightweight title scrap in the Garden bowl. . . Both managers have sworn they'll call off the fight first, but they must have forgotten the bowl is specified in the contract. . . Babe Ruth is pulverizing the ball so hard in batting practice, they may put him on the active roster as a pinch hitter. . .

Novice Boxer Dies
After Being K.O.'ed
Chicago—(4)—A crowd of 4,000 fans cheered last night as Peter Cribari's opponent rallied in the final round of an amateur boxing tournament bout to win by a knockout.

A half hour later the crowd sat silent, stunned by an announcement that Cribari had died. The 18-year-old youth, carried from the ring to a nearby fieldhouse, succumbed without regaining consciousness.

Ring officials said no hard blows had been struck in the first two rounds. In the third Cribari went down with a left to the body and a right to the jaw.

The youths were boxing in the novice class of the Chicago park district tournament.

Grief stricken, Ray Maher, 16, the victorious boxer, fled from the fieldhouse.

Fenske Wins Mile but Big Ten Track Stars Bow to West Coast Team

E VANSTON, ILL.—(4)—Track and field stars of the Pacific coast conference, with Southern California's great team holding a large share of the honors, boasted a second straight triumph today in their inter-sectional series with representatives of the Western conference.

Before 10,000 spectators at Northwestern University's Dyche Stadium, the west coast team swept to a 101 to 35 victory last night. The one sided triumph surpassed the 92 to 44 win scored last year at Los Angeles.

In winning 12 of the 16 events, the Pacific coast team accounted for four of the five new meet records and scored five "slams" in addition to taking the 440 yard and the mile relays. Southern California, which recently won its fourth straight national collegiate title, picked up only three points less than the losing team's total.

Although the Big Ten boys were routed, Charles (Chuck) Fenske of Wisconsin could look back on the meet with satisfaction. In his final appearance as a collegian, the long striding Badger ace won the half mile and mile titles.

Wins by 12 Yards
He whipped Louis Zamperini of Southern California by 12 yards in the mile, gaining revenge for Zamperini's triumph in the national meet, and then came back to take the 880 yard run. Fenske ran the mile in the slow time of 4 minutes 20.9 seconds, largely due to the slow pace set for three laps by Leonard Sporn of California.

Arnold Nutting of California was the meet's other double winner. He set new meet records by running the 100 yards dash in 9.7 seconds and broad jumping 25 feet, 2 inches. Two more meet records fell in the hurdles, Jim Humphries of Southern California skimming the 120 yard highs in 14.3 seconds and his Trojan teammate, Earl Vickery, winning the 220 lows in 22.3 seconds.

The other meet record was established by Walter Mehl of Wisconsin in the two mile—9 minutes, 13.5 seconds. The Big Ten's only other first place winner was Dave Abritton of Ohio State, who high jumped 6 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Frank Kaufman, Wisconsin, ran with the Big Ten 440 relay team, which placed second to the Pacific coast quartet.

Milton Padway, Wisconsin, tied for second and third in the pole vault, with 13 feet, 10 inches, event being won by George Vatoff of Oregon, 14 feet, 2 inches.

Klein walked and stole second to start the Foresters' rally. He scored on an error as Kloes crossed the plate. Stoegebauer walked to fill the bases and Al Stoegebauer, for the second time in two games, drove in the tying and winning runs with a double to center.

Griesbach hurled six innings and allowed seven hits while walking none and striking out two and Kloes finished up the last three innings with one hit, four strikeouts and one walk to his credit. Hildebrandt was on the mound for the losers and fanned one while passing five and allowing eight hits.

Rain Threatens to Halt Duel Between Scabiscuit, Admiral

Boston—(4)—New England's unpredictable weather today threatened the racing duel for which the nation's fans have long waited—Scabiscuit versus War Admiral in tomorrow's $50,000 Massachusetts handicap at Suffolk Downs.

After 48 hours of continuous, driving rain had turned the track into a mass of mud and water—and more rain was predicted for today—Scabiscuit's owner, C. S. Howard asserted that "if we get a heavy, sticky track, we will have to think it over."

The weatherman said the storm would end by tonight or tomorrow, but it was a matter of conjecture whether the track's efficient drainage system could work quickly enough for officials to persuade Howard to start his great 5-year old money winner against Samuel G. Riddle's great son of Man O'War.

The long-awaited clash between the two champions probably will be rounded out by half a dozen other contenders, including John Hay Whitney's Flying Scot, Hal Price Headley's Menow, W. C. McGrath's Peligroso 2d, and Mrs. Emil Dene-mark's entry of War Minstrel and Finance.

See Continued Upward Trend in Steel Purchases

Further Advances are Forecast in Scrap Market Soon

Whether the current revival in the steel market portends a continued improvement remains to be seen but factors underlying the situation argue for an upward movement of moderate degree from the bottom apparently reached two weeks ago, says Steel.

Observers who believe the scrap market a good indicator note a rise of $1.50 per ton at Pittsburgh, the leading consuming center, and 50 cents to $1 per ton in the East and West. Buying by steel mills is being reflected immediately in higher prices and discovery that scrap accumulations are not large and holders are averse to selling too quickly. Further advances are forecast for the immediate future.

Expects Substantial Buying

Some steel to complete 1938 automotive models has been placed recently and at least one builder has ordered steel for the first run of 1939 cars. The market expects substantial buying for this purpose within 60 days. Vessel steel requirements are accumulating as shipyards start on work already awarded and should reach mills before long. Not much is expected from railroads but the Pennsylvania will offer some tonnage for the cars and locomotives it is to build at Altoona.

An increase of 1 point to 28 per cent in the national steel operating rate last week resulted from increased activity at important centers, somewhat balanced by curtailed rates at some other points. Pittsburgh gained 0.7 point to 24 per cent. Chicago 2.5 points to 24.5. Eastern Pennsylvania 1 point to 27. Youngstown 5 points to 32. Wheeling 3 points to 38 and Detroit 8 points to 29 per cent. Buffalo held unchanged to 28 per cent. St. Louis declined 2.7 points to 36.6 per cent. Cincinnati 14 points to 14 per cent. New England 10 points to 15 per cent. Birmingham 16 points to 42 per cent and Cleveland 8 points to 23 per cent.
